Italian Cabinet Acts to Quell "Insurrection"

NEXT WEEK HAS BIG EVENTS OF CAMPAIGN FOR LOWELL

Gaston and Fitzgerald Making a Great Fight—James C. Reilly Daily Gaining Strength in District Attorney Contest—Representative and Senatorial Contests—Silent Vote Will Probably Decide Plan B Contest

It is not oversteering the fact to say that more or less consternation has been caused in the republican camp by the announcement that Hon. Joseph Walker has come out openly for the election of Col. William A. Gaston, the democratic candidate for United States senator and the opponent of Senator Lodge. Mr. Walker sought Senator Lodge in the primaries, but failed, as was to be expected. He has proclaimed from the beginning that he would oppose the election of Senator

Lodge for the reason that he believes the senator to be a veritable menace to the business and commercial prosperity of the state of Massachusetts. This statement is based upon the fact that the senator has generally posed as a national figure, a man too big to favor any one part of the country, not excepting his own state, at the expense of another. It is this policy which has destroyed the influence of New England and enabled the south, the west, and other parts of the country to obtain advantages over New England in

MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED IN ITALY; LATER RESCINDED

Withdrawal of Proclamation Result of Improvement in Situation—Fascist in Concerted Movement Took Possession of Several Important Towns—King Returns to Rome

LONDON, Oct. 25 (By the Associated Press).—Martial law was proclaimed in Italy to take effect at noon today, but the proclamation later was rescinded. It is stated in despatches from the Stefani agency in Rome, the semi-official Italian news organization. It is explained that the withdrawal of the proclamation is the result of an improvement in the situation. Special despatches early this morning told of the beginning of a concerted movement by the Fascist against several towns. Florence, Pisa,

Cremona and other chief centers were declared to have been taken over by the Fascist force, who deposed the state authorities and assumed command. Apparently, according to these advices, there was no resistance. Communications in all parts of the country are badly disrupted and the news of the declaration of martial law is the first to reach here since the movement started. King Victor Emmanuel is known to

CARGO OF 1200 CASES OF WHISKEY SEIZED

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The Dodge, a 60-foot motor launch, whose skipper declared she was not a rum-runner, but just a "good Samaritan" of the sea, was towed into port this morning by the rum chaser Hanson and her cargo of 1200 cases of whiskey confiscated.

INCREASED FREIGHT RATES
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Proposals of American railroads acting in conjunction with Canadian lines to increase freight rates on steel rails and steel tie materials from producing points in Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia to Canadian points, were held unjustified today by the Interstate Commerce commission. The increases proposed ranged from 10 to 25 per cent, and would have become effective tomorrow.

YALE FRESHMAN DYING
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 25.—Talbot Bates Chittenden, a Yale freshman, whose home is in Burlington, Ia., is thought to be dying at Grace hospital as the result of a fall last night.

TRILLIONS OF RUBLES IN CIRCULATION

MOSCOW, Oct. 25.—Millions and billions mean little nowadays in reckoning the affairs of the Russian soviet government, according to Finance Commissioner Sokolnikov. In a report to the workers' and peasants' parliament, he estimated that the soviet rubles now in circulation total 1,132,000,000,000,000.

"Wah, Who, Wah", Green's Football Battle Cry, Sounded in Stadium for First Time in a Decade

Renewal of Gridiron Relations Between Old Rivals, Whose Last Meeting in 1912 Resulted in a 3 to 0 Victory for Crimson, Found Both Teams Primed to the Mid-season Best—20,000 Seats Sold to Dartmouth Alumni

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 25.—The "Wah, Who, Wah" that is Dartmouth's football battle cry sounded in the stadium again today as an eleven from the New Hampshire hills battled Harvard for the first time in a decade. Renewal of the gridiron relations between the old rivals, whose last meeting in 1912 resulted in a 3 to 0 victory for the Crimson, found both teams, primed to the mid-season best, with the possible exception that Dartmouth lacked the services of "Chick" Burke, its halfback captain, who was expected to be on the side lines because of injuries. Harvard, little the worse as a result of its game with Centre last Saturday, prepared to put its strongest lineup on the field. Two thousand graduates from the Hanover college were a colorful spot in the crowd of 51,000 spectators. More than 20,000 seats had also been sold to Dartmouth alumni who came in special trains from Chicago, Cleveland and New York.

A glance at the statistics of the meeting between Crimson and Green showed that of 10 games in the schedule Dartmouth had won two, tied two and lost six, with a difference of only 10 points in the totals. Dartmouth's greatest victory was the 22 to 0 score of 1917.

FIGHT AGAINST DRY FORCES

Huge Fund Pledged by the Wine Interests of Europe to Make Battle

Plans Call for a "Merciless" Fight Against "Drys" of All Nations

PARIS, Oct. 25.—(By the Associated Press).—A large fund reaching many millions of francs has been pledged by the wine interests of Europe, to make a "merciless" fight against the dry forces of all nations, it was learned today. The campaign will be directed by the newly organized international league against prohibition from offices in Paris.

DECREASE IN LOCAL MORTALITY RATE

The local mortality rate was reduced again this week, when 26 deaths were reported, against 32 last week and 35 in the week previous. Deaths under five years numbered seven and there were six under one year.

Infectious diseases reported were diphtheria, seven; scarlet fever, two; and tuberculosis, nine.

LLOYD GEORGE SOUNDS WARNING

"World in Such Trouble You Cannot Afford to Indulge in Party Bickerings"

Declares Nation Surrounded by Menacing Clouds and Darkness

"Die-Hards" Not Only People Seeking Change—Millions Calling For Another

GLASGOW, Oct. 25. (By the Associated Press).—Former Prime Minister Lloyd George, addressing this afternoon an audience of 5000 people who received him enthusiastically, declared in his opening address that "the world is in such trouble, it is in such a condition that you cannot afford to indulge in party bickerings."

POLICE CHIEF ISSUES HALLOWEEN WARNING

Boys and girls who are contemplating a glorious halloween this year had better confine their activities to "indoor sports" as much as possible, for Superintendent Atkinson proposes to prosecute any unscrupulous youngsters. There is an old saying apropos to halloween that "the witches will get you if you don't watch out" and the local police head paraphrases that saying to read, "the cops will get you, etc."

In previous years, innumerable complaints have come to police headquarters relative to broken windows, falling blinds and gates, and it is to offset this unpleasant aftermath that the preliminary warning is being issued. Verily the witches will be out en masse next Tuesday night, so fun-seekers had better consider carefully "which witch is which" before communing with the goblins of temptation in celebrating the mystic halloween.

NAVAL ACADEMY EXAMINATIONS

Ten Young Men Take Preliminary Examinations at City Hall

Examinations Will Eventually Result in Designation of Two Midshipmen

Ten young men—nine from Lowell and one from East Chelmsford—today are taking the preliminary examinations for appointment to the United States Naval academy at Annapolis. The examinations are being held in the council chamber at city hall. They began at 9 a. m. and except for a short rest at noon for luncheon, will continue until 4.15 o'clock this afternoon.

The examinations will eventually result in the designation by Congressmen John Jacob Rogers and William H. Channing H. Cox of two midshipmen, who will name two principals and six alternates. The first eight in rank will be examined later for final entrance.

MAYOR BROWN ASKS FOR REDUCTION IN THE PRICE OF GAS

Request Based on Figures Secured From Other Cities—Election Commissioners Receive Applications for Absentee Ballots—Other City Hall News

Mayor George H. Brown today asked the Lowell Gas company for a reduction in the price of gas for domestic use in the city of at least 20 cents per 1000 feet. His request was made in letter form and was addressed to the board of directors of the company.

In asking consideration of such a reduction, the mayor bases his request upon figures secured by him, covering the cost of gas in many of the larger cities of the country, which show that in nearly 40 such cities a much cheaper rate than the local one is in effect.

FIRE CHIEF SAUNDERS INVESTIGATES CAUSE OF EARLY MORNING FIRE IN SCHOOL STREET

Chief Saunders of the fire department is investigating the origin of the fire which caused damages to the extent of several thousand dollars in the building numbered 712 School street early this morning.

The fire was discovered at about 1.30 o'clock by Dr. Boyle, who was passing by in his automobile, and the alarm from box 51 was sounded. Several pieces of apparatus responded and when the firemen reached the premises flames were shooting through the roof. Several lines of hose were laid, and the fire was fought from neighboring houses, was fought from all angles. While the firemen were coping with the flames someone sent in another alarm from box 5, which resulted in more apparatus being called to the scene. It was only after a couple of hours of real work that the firemen succeeded in putting out the fire under control.

Chief Saunders stated this morning that as far as he has been able to find out the fire started in the rear of the store on the street floor of the building, which is known as a storeroom, and the flames soon worked their way to the roof via the partitions. The upper portion of the house is unoccupied, and this, coupled with the fact that there was no one in the store at the time of the fire, makes the blaze more mysterious. The rear end of the building, from the street to the roof, was badly damaged, while the stock of groceries in the store and storehouse was badly gutted by the water.

Another Early Morning Fire
Shortly before the firemen were called to School street, or at 1.15 o'clock, an alarm was sounded from box 181 for a lively blaze in the cellar of the tenement block at the corner of Hale and Chelmsford streets. As soon as the firemen reached the premises some of them rushed through the building and gave the alarm. The tenants all rushed to the street and, according to the firemen, there was no commotion. In the meantime, several lines of hose were laid through the windows of the cellar, while several of the men in uniform rushed down the stairs and succeeded in checking the blaze before it worked its way through the partitions.

Stillman's Petition is Denied

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Oct. 28.—(By the Associated Press).—Supreme Court Justice Seeger today denied the motion of counsel of James A. Stillman, New banker, to show cause why the decision handed down by Supreme Court Justice Morsebauser at White Plains, N. Y., confirming the report of Referee Gleason in favor of Mrs. Stillman and her son, Guy, should not be reviewed.

LOWELL TEXTILE GOODS TAG DAY IS BIG SUCCESS

Prices Advancing on Products of Local Mills—New York Quotations

Lowell People Give Generously to Pretty Polish Tag Day Girls

Lowell textile mills continue to operate at full capacities, with improvement noted in the sales of wanted fall lines turned out by local industries. The mills are showing increased activities in office quarters, with no signs of letting up for the present.

Every windy corner in Lowell had a fashion show of its own today, with exhibits of natty curls of many shades tumbling from under soft-toned hats of seasonable shape and design; rosy cheeks adding a touch of crimson to the animated figures of the trim little Lowell school girls and young ladies of more mature age—all making a continuous reel of highly alluring pictures for pedestrians.

AMERICAN LEGION BALL

Officers Selected for Armistice Eve Affair in Memorial Auditorium

With the choosing of officers for the American Legion's Armistice eve ball, a big responsibility has been taken from the shoulders of the general committee. For several weeks the general committee has been working out the details and it is believed now that matters are well straightened out as far as the main events are concerned. The officers will work with the general committee and sub-committees, as many of them are members of one or more committees and will be working hard. It is thought the affair will be a gigantic success.

The officers are as follows: General manager, Stephen C. Garret; Assistant general managers, John T. McDermott, Daniel P. Brennan, Treasurer, Joseph J. Dunne; Floor marshal, Percy J. Wilson; Assistant floor marshals, Charles A. Stevens, Joseph A. Molloy, Stephen Kearney.

FUR-TRIMMED HATS

Satin hats fur-trimmed are very much the vogue now. Brown satin is particularly the rage in all shades from tan to the shade that is almost black. Golden brown is very much liked and is much worn with navy blue and black.

WHITE SATIN

White satin is no longer exclusively for the bride, but for the society lady and the matron as well. Frequently it is made sleeveless and depends upon its smartness for its time and drapery. Often it is beaded with white or colored beads.

OPENING TUESDAY OF MOLLER'S MODERN FOUR-STORY FURNITURE STORE IN MIDDLE STREET

GEORGE A. KING

S. W. PRUSSIAN

Massive Building is Filled With Beautiful House Furnishings and Will Be Open for Inspection and Reception of Guests—Juvenile Department Filled With Children's Furniture a Novel Feature—Concert Musicians Will Give Elaborate Program on Opening Day

Lowell's newest and largest furniture house—Moller's, Inc.—will open its doors to the public inspection and future patronage next Tuesday morning, Oct. 31.

This addition to the city's prosperous mercantile interests is backed by one of the most successful furniture selling corporations in the country with a record of many years of splendid developments. From small quarters to large areas for the showing of all that is new, modern and desirable in the line of complete house furnishings is a record worthy of mention because of the energy displayed by the enterprising executives of the concern, who, by the way, have implicit faith in the future business prosperity of Lowell.

The new furniture house that graces Middle street close to the sweep of busy Central street has wonderfully changed the appearance of that bustling thoroughfare that contains so many important business concerns today. The Moller building, of great beauty and actually imposing as one stands at the Central street corner and looks to the spot where the structure has been erected and is now ready for formal opening next Tuesday, occupies the spot where the new Harrison hotel was to have been constructed.

The architectural work in the new building area is most imposing. All of the handsome limestone used in the construction plans was imported from Bath, Eng. The new store, four stories in height and of generous width, is one of the very best lighted structures in New England. The daylight is there in full measure, the immense windows giving ample allowance for all the natural light there is. The artificial lighting system is complete, the direct light being used and the huge globes being of the latest pattern.

Interior Is Very Inviting

The interior of the building is unusually inviting. There is an impression of great cleanliness, with the spotless white varnished paint used lavishly on walls, and artistic carpenter work in all the novel finishes and arrangements called for by the designers. The massive columns that support the floors are also dressed in clear white. The business office in the rear is finished in light gray.

The variety of new furniture of every description, the display of modern lamps, "grandfather's clocks" of most remarkable size and beauty, the presentations in popular Queen Anne style furniture for home and other places where men and women gather daily for business purposes or recreation, the club furniture and decorations, the notable offerings for pastime halls and other gathering places will entice the eager visitors.

Practically the same decorative scheme is carried out on the upper floors of the building as is found on the first floor. An unusual feature of the Moller, Inc., concern's new place of business, now nearly ready for the opening, are ten enormous display "house rooms" in the front of the building, with show windows from the street. Each room may be enclosed, and furniture displayed as if in a house living room. In addition to the ten novel display rooms, made to order, there is a specially built juvenile room in the rear of the first floor, which has been finished in beautiful colors and designs familiar to childish hearts. This room has special furniture "to fit the children" and there will be showings here from time to time of different things in lines that go to furnish in detail children's nursery and playrooms.

All window displays can be inspected equally as well from the store interior as from the street sidewalk. On the second floor will be displayed living room furniture. On the third will be the chamber and dining room furnishings in great variety, and the top floor will be given over to rugs, chairs, beds and odd pieces. The basement will contain a range of kitchen sets, beds, oil stoves, heaters and miscellaneous household articles of popular usage.

Splendid Elevator Service

A passenger elevator connects all floors of the building and there is a freight elevator service, all provided with the latest safety appliances. On the second floor is a ladies rest room, well furnished and providing a cozy place where shoppers may go and rest while on tours of the city. Other arrangements are made for the entertainment of women of the city, as well, the Moller concern dealing to extend every courtesy to all comers, whether they come to purchase supplies or simply to look over the great Moller collection of household goods.

There are two entrances to the great building on Middle street and one from the rear. There will be free delivery of all goods to all sections of Lowell and the immediate vicinity. Customers will find stocks of all grades to meet all tastes, and the motto will be: "Cash. If you have it, credit will wait." The concern guarantees its prices to be as low, if not lower, than those of any other similar concern in New England.

The Moller store in Cambridge has been well known for years, coming into the possession of the well known concern some eight years ago. S. W. Prussian is president and treasurer of Moller's, Inc. He believes that all success in life is based on the principle of "service." When asked to explain the secret of his success in Cambridge and elsewhere, Mr. Prussian referred the interviewer to his very efficient store department managers, who were glad to explain why the "Moller system" has worked out so well.

The employees credit Mr. Prussian with being both friendly and charitable in his dealings with those who come to his stores. He has made a success of his commercial life by keeping in touch with those who fall to rise in life's struggle. Witness his great charitable work in and about Boston, showing the business man, perhaps, at his best, while chronicling his human endeavors. He annually gives free dinners to inmates at the state prison in Charlestown and at the Charles street jail, Boston, and provides frequent entertainments, also.

He has long aided extensive charitable work in Cambridge, where his other store is flourishing and has a host of customers and loyal friends.

Lowell Man Manager

Although Mr. Prussian is the head of the Moller concern, the local management of the Lowell store will be in the hands of George A. King, a popular young business man of Lowell, who began his commercial career with the A. G. Pollard Co. 20 years ago, developing until he was promoted to the position of assistant buyer. He continued in this position until he was who began his commercial career with filling a similar position with that concern until their reorganization last winter. He received an offer from Moller's, Inc., last April and went to Cambridge headquarters. Naturally his Lowell friends are gratified to see Mr. King transferred to this city, his home town.

Other Lowell people will be employed in Moller's when the doors are formally thrown open next Tuesday. There will be Michael E. Gookin, well known in this city and vicinity; Victor C. Hlg, for many years in the phonograph trade, and F. L. Plant, a well known Lowell salesman, who will be in charge of important departments. Lowell men will make up the sales personnel with French and Greek speaking salesman to accommodate people who speak these languages. With the office force will be Lowell people solely, Miss Layola and Miss Wynne, both Lowell girls, being employed there.

An excellent choice in the selection of a general manager and buyer for Moller's, Inc., is Henry L. Mahan, an experienced furniture man, with many years of long experience behind him. The store will open Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock and remain open until 5 o'clock in the evening. Souvenirs will be distributed and will be worth going to obtain. An orchestra will play interesting selections during the day and evening. After the formal opening day, the Moller store will keep the same business hours as other large stores.

The corporation has issued many thousand attractive invitations asking Lowell people to attend the formal opening, but if any failed to secure formal cards, they are invited to come to the store on Middle street anyhow and inspect the new building and its multitude of wonderful offerings.

OLD SOLDIER IN NEED OF ASSISTANCE

Today the world is and should be interested in the welfare of our World war heroes, but the Lowell Social Service league wonders if one or many are interested in the problem of a totally disabled old soldier. He is a regular army man of the late 50s, has no known relatives, has always been a steady worker until incapacitated through illness. His savings are gone and he is just out of a local hospital. As he is too late to apply for a pension, and not eligible to military or state aid, the league has secured admittance to the Old Soldiers' home at Washington for him. The question of railroad fare is now pressing. Any one willing to give the smallest donation towards the $15 needed should bring or send it to the Lowell Social Service league, 205-207 Fairburn building.

"The New World Begins"

"millions now living will never die" --- Judge Rutherford

There is special significance in the troublous days through which the world has passed since 1914. Out of these events will come greater developments, involving all nations and peoples. The Bible accurately foretold present conditions. Its prophecies regarding the future will be fulfilled with equal exactness. The outstanding hope held forth in the Scriptures is the hope of eternal life, and the realization of this hope is now at hand. It will be accompanied by all that the heart has longed for—health, peace and happiness. God's purpose in giving man a revelation of His Plan was that mankind should use it, understand it, and appreciate the principles it sets forth. An understanding of the Bible broadens one's view and inspires cheerfulness and optimism. Prophets of old have described with glowing tongue the glories of the bright day that is now dawning. Hear the subject discussed at length.

ISSUES ON THE BALLOT

Little more than a week remains in which to study up the candidates and the issues to be passed upon at the election on November 7. It is easier to decide between the candidates of the respective parties than upon the various questions contained in the referendum. The pamphlet sent out to the voters of the state by Secretary of State Cook will show each voter the precise text of the measures to which the various questions refer.

For example, here is referendum question No. 3, in brief: "Shall Chapter 138 of the Acts of 1921, which provides for the censorship of moving pictures by state authority be approved?" The pamphlet referred to gives the full text of the act and thus the voter can decide before going to the polls whether he or she wants to favor such an act. If so, it is proper to vote "yes," otherwise it will be the proper thing to vote "no." The general conviction among fair minded people is that this law is not necessary and that it would do harm instead of good. That is why it should be defeated by voting "no."

There is another question on which there seems to be much confusion. It has reference to the enforcement of the prohibition law. The question really is whether the state shall use its police powers and legal machinery for the enforcement of the prohibition law as defined by the Volstead act. On this question a "yes" vote favors the adoption of the prohibition law in its strictest form, whereas "no" will mean the rejection of the act. This is not a matter of local option on liquor, where "yes" would mean liquor and "no" prohibition. As the question is put on the ballot "yes" will favor strict enforcement of the prohibition law and "no" the refusal of the state to co-operate with the federal authorities in the enforcement of prohibition. Those who believe in strict enforcement of the 18th amendment, and we believe all good citizens so believe, will vote "yes" on this question. Equal care should be exercised in voting upon the other referenda.

The adoption or rejection of Plan B is a local issue for Lowell alone. This form of charter does not differ very much from our present charter. In some points it is inferior and in others superior. Plan B has no provision for a Board of Public Service, nor for a budget and auditing commission; nor a director of school hygiene, but these features could be retained by ordinance.

The petitioners have chosen annual elections and if Plan B is adopted, there will be annual elections just as there were under the commission form of government, although the mayor and commissioners served for two years each. This arrangement prevents all of the council and all of the school board going out of office at one time and perhaps in each case giving way to a full board of new and inexperienced men. With a term of two years, the mayor would have the appointing power subject to confirmation by the council. The removals are effected in a manner somewhat different from the plan of the present charter; and on the whole the mayor has more power under Plan B and the council less than under the present charter.

There seems to be a considerable element in favor of Plan B and the question of adoption or rejection is one for the people to decide. It is alleged that the effect of Plan B would be to recall the present government. So far as terminating the service of the present government and electing a new, that is true, but it would be grossly unjust to the officials involved to say that if Plan B is adopted the present government shall have been bodily recalled. That would be unfair and actually libellous to each and every member for the reason that a recall involves charges of malfeasance, incompetency, or some other ground of complaint justifying the application of the recall. No such charges are made in urging the adoption of Plan B.

FRAUDULENT PROMOTERS

Lowell real estate operators are reported to be almost unanimous in affirming and declaring themselves in favor of the passage by the incoming legislature of regulatory license laws. It is believed that legislation requiring all dealers and brokers in real estate, as well as salesmen, to be licensed in order to transact business, is desirable at this time, with so many other states in the Union adopting regulations of this kind.

Such legislation, we believe, will raise the standard of ethics and efficiency of the real estate business and give to the public a necessary guarantee against improper conduct on the part of irresponsible agents engaged in the real estate operations.

No one who is a bona fide legitimate handler of real estate transactions need fear the regulations proposed by the law now being drawn up by prominent real estate men in all sections of the state.

The campaign to require all real estate brokers and salesmen to be licensed in order to transact legitimate business, is not one that will be opposed by anyone who is responsible and properly equipped to transact business of this kind. The agitation in favor of licensing reputable brokers and salesmen should be supported by all who have the best interests of the real estate business at heart. It would protect the public against sharks and crooks who use the business as a blind to conceal their other dishonest dealings.

SOME KNOTTY PROBLEMS

The federal government has on hand several very knotty problems arising from enforcement of the prohibition law. One of these lies in the fact that the Volstead act provides that its prohibitions shall not apply to liquor in transit through the Panama canal or on the Panama railroad. The canal and the railroad are quite as much United States territory as are the ocean waters within three miles of the coast. But the 18th amendment extends its prohibition to the manufacture, sale or transportation of intoxicating liquors within all territory subject to the jurisdiction of the United States. Thus it would seem that the Volstead act contravenes the amendment itself and is also at variance with Attorney-General Daugherty's decision. But, the argument is relevant now that Congress can exempt the Panama canal and the Panama railroad from the operations of the 18th amendment. It can equally exempt the waters around the coast to the extent of the three-mile limit. There is evidently here a question that will engage the attention of the lawyers and perhaps of the supreme court of the United States for some time, but if the amendment applies to all territory under the jurisdiction of the United States, then it should assuredly apply to the Panama canal as well as to the three-mile limit.

NEW EQUIPMENT NEEDED

Numerous New England railroads are carrying heavy burdens at this time, with greatly reduced transportation equipment. Witness the appearance in the Lowell freight yards several mornings ago of a "double-headed" freight train containing exactly 55 heavily loaded freight cars in one string by actual count.

It proves what has already been clearly demonstrated before the eyes of discerning men who know anything about railroad matters at all, that the New England lines today are in bad shape for handling their share of the immense increase of freight that has descended upon the rail lines. The burden at the present time falls heavily upon such through lines as the Boston & Maine and freight movements are increasing almost daily, as those who are acquainted with conditions in the freight service in this neighborhood are well aware.

Unless the railroads obtain additional equipment at once, they are likely to stumble under the burdens now piling up with the return of prosperity so long predicted and apparently now at hand.

ARE WE OVER-EDUCATED?

It is only a short time ago since the president of a New England college stated that too many men were entering college and that it would be well to limit college students to the aristocracy of brains. Now comes Wentworth Stewart of Washington, who in an address before the Associated Industries of Massachusetts criticized the system of education prevailing in this country on the ground that it turns out an over-supply of non-producing individuals and takes so many from the mass of working people that there are not enough left to keep the population alive. This is somewhat similar to the Malthusian doctrine of the 18th century, which held that the increase in population should be limited so that no country would have more people than it could feed. Malthus held that if any country could not produce food enough for its population a portion thereof would starve to death. The development of navigation, the growth of emigration and the interchange of commodities between producing nations have proved that the doctrine of Malthus was unsound. We surmise that this dread of over-education as expressed by Mr. Stewart will prove equally preposterous.

MENACE TO ITALY

In Italy the Fascist, a powerful organization claiming to represent the people, is holding public demonstrations of a military kind against the government and in a manner that has the world guessing as to what they mean to do. Their aim seems to be to discredit the government and then take it over; and they hint that if the government does not retire peacefully to make way for them, they will use force, which is but a threat of revolution.

FREE STATE CONSTITUTION

It appears that the Irish constitution now finished by the Dail Eireann will become operative after it shall have been approved by the British parliament possibly next December. "After the Constitution comes into operation, the house of parliament, elected in pursuance of the Free State agreement act, may for one year exercise all the powers conferred by the Constitution on the chamber. The first election for the chamber shall be as soon as possible after the expiration of such period."

This would indicate that the next election for the Irish parliament will not be held until after the expiration of a year from the time the constitution takes effect.

Diplomatically, of course, it was in better taste for Ambassador Harvey to attack Moses and the Decalogue and the book of Genesis than to break out with some silliness against the king of England, Lloyd George or Bonar Law. There will be no comeback from Moses; but a gentleman named Harding at Washington may have something to say about Mr. Harvey's efforts to knock the props from the belief in the Bible and Christianity.

A Thought

Religion should be to every man not a restraint, but an experience; not a burden, but an inspiration; not an insurance for the next world, but a program for the present world.—James Stalker.

Willie's Great Faith

The Sunday school lesson was on Job. The superintendent was endeavoring to put before the student existence of Job to his youthful audience. To this end he was dwelling at length upon poor Job's suffering and the facility of medical treatment on his part, and many incidents of everyday life afforded him opportunity for witty sallies in this relation. Recently he attended a musicale, and after an artist and singer sang "I'm Only With Thee Ever," the Briton was asked by some one who was the person on his mind, for the moment he had forgotten, he replied, "But one might say that, whoever he the composer, it is opus 18."

Witty Belcher

There was a brilliant young Britisher in Washington, the correspondent of a famous British journal, who has not been able to realize that the United States has really voted itself free. He has become somewhat of an obsession on his part, and many incidents of everyday life afforded him opportunity for witty sallies in this relation. Recently he attended a musicale, and after an artist and singer sang "I'm Only With Thee Ever," the Briton was asked by some one who was the person on his mind, for the moment he had forgotten, he replied, "But one might say that, whoever he the composer, it is opus 18."

Wet-Inette

A diplomat was talking about the British foreign minister, Lord Curzon, to a group of friends. He said, "Of Reddison, Curzon is the most pompous fellow in the world. It is thanks to him that France and Belgium are always at loggerheads. At Oxford, when he was a student, he was known as a pompous ass. One day he was asked to give a lecture on the river. 'Man overboard!' said one of the bystanders. 'Curzon, though he couldn't swim, managed to get his head above water for a moment and to splutter indignantly. 'What do you mean, fellow? 'Man overboard!' Indeed! I'd have you know that the first Greek word is overboard.'"

All Grounded Up

James is a friend of ours. He lives in a large town in the middle west, situated on a lake. James has peculiar ideas. One of these is the keeping of his supplies in the cellar. Several days ago James died and his wife showed the neighbors leaving the house he searched all over the cellar for a can he had purchased some weeks before. "Where's the salt?" he asked. "In a crock near the steps," he found it. He really caught, but not under the steps. It was near the preserve shelf. Two hours later James and his car were towed back to town and a public garage all the while. The engine was such a slobber stuffer, not hand-cranking would budge it, and only by keeping the gears in neutral could it be moved. James was shown the contents of the cylinders. "Taffy," he said, "I'll swear he will taste kerosene oil in his finger, the crank case. In this case it had been molasses.—Judge.

Aftermath

The holidays are over and we've started work again. We hurry over breakfast and we catch the early train. We note the scent of blossoms in the shops were passing by. We hear a sparrow's twitter and we give a little sigh! For "aftermath" is always such a time for half-regret.

For all the bits of happiness which you and I have met! But somehow when we reach the shop, the warehouse, or the yard, and work is waiting for us all, it doesn't seem so bad. For 1921 and Jack-o'-Nell and Sad-whoever it may be. Have such a "tally" word and smile to each other, you and I. And as we start re-adding of the times we've had away. We know this, every afternoon, comes to us, and it is the best of all. —Lillian Lind in Pearson's Weekly.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

In reference to the Irish band coming to the Auditorium next Monday, it may be said that it deals with high class Irish music only and takes no notice whatever of the Irish music disturbing Ireland. It is an organization fully as great as Sousa's band, but it plays only the music of Irish composers.

At a special afternoon session of the local district court this past week, Judge Fisher faced a very embarrassing situation, following a casual remark of a witness in an important case. It happened that the witness was a woman, who, in testifying on the stand against a man, alleged to have committed a serious assault. "Was he drunk at the time?" asked the judge. "Your Honor," replied the witness, "he was as sober as a judge." The judge smiled and no doubt wondered if the remark was intended as a compliment. Anyhow it wasn't construed as contempt of court and was allowed to pass. It is not at all a reflection on the judiciary that the sobriety of judges has become proverbial.

Superintendent of Police Atkinson is back at his desk again and has plunged into the vast amount of work on hand, after an 8-days' tour by auto through Maine and Canada. In company with Mrs. Atkinson the police chief started on his trip three weeks ago and had a delightful time. It was his first vacation he has had for some time. During his absence Deputy Chief Downey handled the reins so well that when the big chief returned things were in good running order, although a lot of work of a personal nature piled up on him. It is fortunate that the department has such good executive office men as Capt. Petrie and Duncan, Sergeants MacLaughlin and Blesow and other commissioned officers to look after the work.

The action of the Y.M.C.A. boys in paying tribute to "Eddie" Cawley, a few nights ago is worthy of the highest commendation. If there is a man in Lowell deserving of athletic recognition, that man is Eddie Cawley, who, as the several speakers at the surprise event so ably said, stuck to his own crowd and refused to listen to the mercenary offers of rival camps throughout the city. It was Cawley who kept the Y.M.C.A. baseball team intact during the Twilight League season, being, he is in the point of playing every position on the diamond with equal skill and grace. Quiet, unassuming, a gentleman on and off the field, the loyal son of Belvidere is everybody's friend. We hope to see more of Eddie in the world of sport.

The recent election of Joseph L. Cronin as a member of the Massachusetts state legislature is a fine tribute to this local man whose experience in the position he now holds has been short. It is just a little more than a year now since Judge Enright appointed Mr. Cronin to the position which he now holds. During the time he held the office Mr. Cronin has surely shown by his work that the court's confidence in him was not misplaced. As I understand it, the election of Mr. Cronin to the advisory board came unsolicited and was quite a surprise to the former newspaperman. The meeting was held in Boston and was attended by probation officials from every part of the state.

Brother John W. Sharkey of Court Merrimack, E. A., is one of the most enthusiastic fraternal men in or about Lowell. He is one of the real "backbones" of Court Merrimack, always ready to take up any details, whether for new members or in handling the details of many events scheduled by this popular court. Mr. Sharkey is one of the best writers on lodge affairs there is to be found in Lowell. His manuscripts are always good, and his pen is as quick as a flash. His vocabulary is of wide range, and he is a man of many attainments. He has a nice little home up town, and a host of friends all over the city. Mr. Sharkey is a member of that great fraternity that makes Lowell a good place to live in, and his good friends and all his good brothers of the F. O. C. and similar organizations that do their part in holding Lowell together and keeping the city's name on the map of good fellowship and brotherly love.

There are no medals attached to an electrician's life achievements, perhaps, but I must contribute a few sentiments of my personal appreciation for the record of Michael J. Burns, the Lowell police department electrician, who has been granted a pension after rounding out 30 years of service in the city's line of work. Mr. Burns was born in England 61 years ago. After coming to America, he obtained employment with the N. E. Telephone and Telegraph company. In 1901 he was appointed electrician in the Lowell police department. Since that time he has been a most efficient and reliable member of the force. He is still being used by the local department. That pension he has now received from the city council was well earned, although a good many will be sorry that it was not a little more from the activities of the electrical world in old Lowell.

Quarter Century Ago

From The Sun:
"A crowd of at least 1200 people saw the first event under the auspices of the Horizon Athletic club last night at Bridgeport, Conn."

The star event of the evening was the bout between Marlin Flaherty of Lowell, and Daniel McBride of New York. The bout was announced to be a 15-round go. In the point of salience McBride was way ahead of Flaherty. In the second round Flaherty committed (unintentionally) a foul, and was fined by Referee White. Afterwards Flaherty was more careful. He gained on his man and in the tenth round he hit so groggy that one of McBride's friends jumped into the ring and stopped the bout. The decision went to Flaherty.

Where's Richard's Family?
"Some years ago a man named Isaac Richard, who resided on Common Street and worked as teamster for the Otis Elevator Co. had a cancer cure in the form of a plaster, which was successful in his treatment of cancers on the outer surface of the body. He died some fifteen years ago and it is understood that his wife died a few years later, so that it is not known whether any of the relatives got the secret of the plaster which was originally obtained from a distinguished French doctor. Many inquiries have been made relative to this man and his family by parties afflicted with cancer who heard of his successful treatment of some aggravated cases. The Sun has been unable to give any information relative to their whereabouts."

Henry George Dead

Says the old Sun:
"Henry George, who died at New York after making a speech, ranked among the prominent men of this country."

"Every state and city in the United States he was known and his fame and reputation extended throughout Europe. With organized labor he was a power. In this class had no greater friend, supporter or defender than Mr. George. He was a man of strong mind and a character that was manly and upright in every respect. He advocated the single tax theory and the nationalization of the land."

The Sun, Oct. 27, 1922:
The marriage of Patrick F. Nestor, a popular member of the Matthews' ball team, and Miss Mary J. Guinan, occurred last evening at St. Peter's church. Rev. Fr. McKenna performed the ceremony. From The Sun:
"Rarely, if ever in the history of Association hall, has there been such a large number of people at a banquet as that which was given to the spread French society of Lowell, in connection with the French bazaar which is having a most successful run. It is estimated that over 600 persons were present. At the speakers' table were seated: Mr. and Mrs. Auguste H. Jean, Mayor and Mrs. William H. Courtney, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. # Berton Braley's Daily Poem

THE CHAMPION

David Lloyd George is in trouble again,
His enemies think they have got him at last.
They've thought so before, on occasions—and then
They've found him on top when the crisis was past.
For David has vigor, he's quick on the trigger,
He's there with the blunney, the skill and the brain;
And freely I'll wager this clever old stager
Will win and of Britain be premier again.

David Lloyd George isn't ever asleep,
He seems to be napping at times, but he's not.
He always is ready and willing to leap
In the thick of the battle where fighting is hot.
He lets his feet bind him with both hands behind him,
And just when they chuckle and chortle with glee,
And start celebrations and wild jubiliations,
He does a floundini and goes away free!

David Lloyd George has the pep and the punch,
He's ever alert and he's always athrob.
Among Europe's statesmen the best of the bunch,
Whatever the problem he's right on the job.
He thrives upon crises; his vigilant eye sees
The chance of successes in peace or in war,
And when this fight's finished—with vim undiminished
David Lloyd George will be THERE as of yore!

the Democrats to Make All Possible

Causes White House Functions to

Mace Symbol of Congressional Authority

(Special to The Sun)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28.—The national headquarters of both the democratic and republican parties are seething and the political net is at the boiling point. There may be apathy in other sections of the country but in Washington, where the administration and congress play the leading part on all occasions, the interest is at fever heat. The "ice" has been melted to keep a light glow on what they now hold; the "outs" are equally determined to gain a foothold and will enable them to win out at the presidential election in 1924. They count on so cutting the republican majority in both senate and house that the alien boards will point to democratic victory two years hence.

Senator David I. Walsh is hopeful this can be accomplished, and after completing his long tour of the western states he now is, he will return to Massachusetts and personally direct the campaign in that state, and in other New England states, the week preceding the election. With election but a few days away, it is still useless to venture a prediction as to the outcome of the election, the women's vote, and the combination of less prominent parties with the democratic party coupled with the labor union vote, will complicate the final conditions that the day as much as a matter of doubt today as it was months ago.

In some states, notably New Hampshire, the labor unions have openly come out in favor of the democratic party and have put up no ticker of their own. The socialists of that state have done the same. How far known for the step is not altogether pleasing to old time democrats who believe it should be the tariff, and other principles of policy, that should govern the platform, rather than a combination of the party ranks. How far that may lead men to hold the ticket; how far republicans will hold their own ticket, on account of the law and order and the upholding of the Volstead act clauses of the platform, is just as uncertain as whether the

Mrs. Harding's Condition
It is known that the health of Mrs. Harding is even now such as to give her family and friends considerable concern. To be sure she is gaining, but so slowly that even now she is able to sit up but a few minutes occasionally. It is expected that she will recover, but the gradualness which has followed her terrible ordeal will make full recovery a long, hard task for her to follow.

All formal social functions at the White House have been abandoned and it is made known there will be no official entertaining, such as usually marks the winter season. Mrs. Harding, the social secretary, is meeting all obligations that would otherwise fall on Mrs. Harding. She is the daughter of the late Justice Harlan of the U. S. supreme court and is thoroughly qualified, both by training and experience in her own social life, to meet the obligations thus thrust upon her.

President Harding spends much time in the sick room. His devotion to Mrs. Harding and his affectionate regard and consideration of her every wish, is evident in the daily routine of his life. No matter how pressing the cares of state; no matter how heavy the public demands on his time, President Harding lets nothing interfere with his frequent visits to the bedside of his beloved wife.

Draper Kept Humming
From The Sun:
"In the 26th district, Henry J. Draper is making a hurdle to win and so are his associates, John G. Gordon and James McCarthy, Charles W. Whitman, John P. Mahoney and George Hyman are the candidates in the 25th district and they will receive the entire democratic vote."

Henry J. Draper was beaten last year, but he kept running for representative until he secured election and after serving as representative, he finally was elected senator and now he is running again for representative in the eighth district against Senator P. M. Old Timer.

FROM TOP TO TOE IN MILADY'S MODES

Hat Aims to Please

The sterling virtues of economy, practicality and durability were not emphasized in this hat, or could it be induced to take a decided stand on the large or small issue. It merely aimed to be becoming. Black lace, feathers and black satin, helped it achieve its end.

Practical and Pretty

The cloth coat and the practical suit come in a number of attractive forms this season. They are embellished with fur, the long or short-haired variety being equally good, and frequently embroidery in conventional patterns livens up dark, winter fabrics.

Both Styles Popular

The 1922 model fur coat may be long or short, but it must be smart. Black caracul and kolik-ky make the long one and moleskin and fox the short one pictured here. For early winter, the jacket with the hip band is most popular, but the longer model will have its inning later.

Fascinating Negligee

The coat of lace embellished with satin ribbons and rosebuds worn over a slip of pink satin or georgette is probably the most feminine and alluring of all garments. Incidentally, it's the sort of a garment nearly any woman can fashion for herself.

Graceful

Paisley

The most effective negligee is often the simplest, as in the case of this softly draped model of supple blue satin.

New System of Fat Reduction

Here's a new way for all fat people to laugh together at that old bugaboo—Obesity. The saying that "there is nothing new under the sun" does not now apply to fat people any more. Here is something new for them—a new sensation, a new pleasure, a new and graceful figure, easily found by anyone who is passing beyond the limits of illness. Everyone has heard of the Marmola Prescription; that harmless combination of fat-reducing elements perfected by one of the foremost physicians. Now, from the same high authority, there comes another idea—the idea of condensing these same, pure, harmless ingredients into a pleasant little tablet. Taken after eating and at bedtime, they help the stomach to dispose of all the fatty foods, converting them into compact, solid flesh, muscle and energy, without dieting or exercise. Marmola Prescription Tablets regulate the entire system—do for you what bodily exertion and self-denial can not do, and the fat, once routed, is gone for good. You can move all this at a trifling cost. Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists or sent postpaid by the Marmola company, 4612 Woodward avenue, Detroit, Mich. A case—sufficient to bring results—is but one dollar.—Adv.

BROADCLOTH, ERMINE

White broadcloth and ermine are combined in a very charming coat dress. Wide cuffs and the long narrow collar which reaches to the waistline are of the fur. The gown is on straight easy lines and is worn with a stunning turban of draped black velvet and silver.

Sure Way to Charm

If you want to be picturesque—and what woman doesn't!—the quickest way to achieve your purpose is to buy a picture hat of black velvet, hung with Spanish lace that falls below the shoulder line on the left side. You simply can't help being irresistible.

What Paris Sends Us

Unless shorter dresses become the vogue, fancy stockings would seem to be a drag on the market—but they aren't. They are more popular than ever before and are frequently embroidered in gay colors. Fancy slippers, too, of brocade and light suede leather are most stylish.

Lines of Loveliness

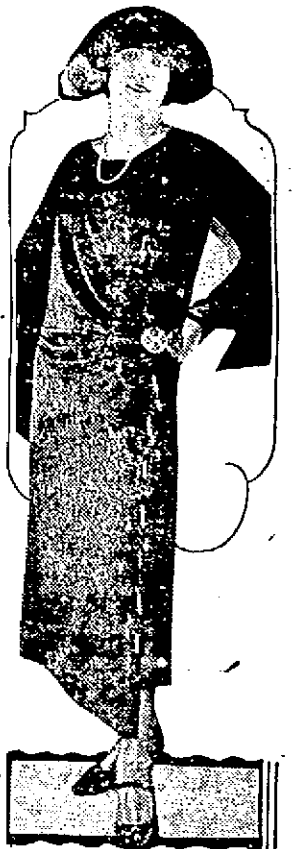

Drapery is apt to play an important part in the dinner frock, and street frock as well. As sleeves on fancy gowns become more elaborate and flowing, those on street frocks become longer and plainer. But the waistline cannot be induced to leave the hips for any occasion.

For Evening

Sapphire blue velvet with a lining of silver cloth and elaborate sleeves and a novel collar tell the news of this lovely evening coat.

Distinctive

This frock of crepe would be plain if it were not so distinctively draped. As it is, it is one of the season's smartest models.

I had been sick for eight months with a trouble which confined me to my bed and was only able to be up part of the time, when I was advised by a friend, Mrs. Smith, to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Metropolis, Illinois—"I was so much benefited by the use of these medicines that I was able to be up and about in two weeks. I was at the Change of Life when I began taking the medicine and I passed over that time without any trouble. Now I am hale and hearty, do all my housework, washing, ironing, scrubbing, and cooking, all there is to do about a house, and can walk two or three miles without getting too tired. I know of several of my neighbors who have been helped by your medicines."—Mrs. EMMA CONVER, 705 E. 7th St., Metropolis, Illinois.

Depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Nervousness, irritability, heat flashes, headache and dizziness, are relieved by this splendid medicine.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Football followers anticipated a series of brilliant gridiron performances today with numerous contests of major importance scheduled in the east, west and south. Four games monopolizing the spotlight in the east are those between Harvard and Dartmouth, at Cambridge; Penn State and Syracuse, at the Hill; Army and Yale, at New Haven; and Princeton and Princeton, at Princeton.

Two international contests of exceptional interest are scheduled to take place at the hands of the University of Chicago last year, playing the Maroons on the latter's own grounds, while Notre Dame invaded Atlanta, to battle Georgia Tech.

Three important western conference games will be played between Michigan and Illinois, Minnesota and Ohio State, and Purdue and Iowa, Yale's conqueror. In the east, other leading attractions include Lafayette-Dartmouth College, at Lafayette; Rutgers-West Virginia, at Rutgers; Columbia-Williams, at Columbia; and Brown-Brown, at Brown.

The south's schedule is featured by rivalry between Centre and Louisville, North Carolina state and Virginia Military Institute, Alabama and Tennessee, Mississippi and Tennessee, and Tennessee and Kentucky.

In the far west, the leading games are those between California and South Southern California universities, and Idaho and Oregon.

LOWELL BOYS STARRING ON COLLEGE GRIDIRONS

Two well known local boys who are starting on distant college gridirons this year are Arthur Lynch and Gregory McAdams, both of whom received their fundamental training in the Lowell high school. Lynch is experiencing his second season on the Canadian college eleven of Buffalo, N. Y., and from all reports is a winner. Gregory McAdams is playing for the University of Wisconsin at Madison, where he is a star player. An ardent lover of the major college sport, Lynch has been a football enthusiast since boyhood, starting on the high school team for several years. He also played in a few games here with the old Indians on the Fair grounds where he exhibited speed and skill. His ability soon became recognized by college scouts and Lynch eventually landed at Notre Dame university, an institution which has become famous for its gridiron products, under the inflexible Knute Rockne. The Lowell boy found his legs and went out for the team, and immediately his aggressive play attracted the attention of the famous coach. His appearance on the Notre Dame sport horizon was at that time an incident of great importance, for such stars as Gipp and Mohr had been there, and Lynch's presence on the team was a great asset. He is now a member of the team, and is expected to make a big season.

Game on Polo Grounds

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The football teams of Penn State college and Syracuse university met at the Polo Grounds this afternoon in the first of a series of games featuring one of the best of the nation's football players, Penn State, with its long list of triumphs, and Syracuse, who have won the last year's national championship. The game was a close one, with the home team, Penn State, prevailing by a score of 13 to 7. The game was a very interesting one, with many close plays and a great deal of action. The game was a very good one, and it was a very good one.

BLUENOSE VICTORY IS UPHELD BY COMMITTEE

GLOUCESTER, Oct. 25.—As an aftermath of the international fishermen's race series, two things were decided yesterday. The protests of the Ford adherents against the race of Thursday and Wednesday to stand on the ground that no official observer representing the Ford had been on the ground during the race, were allowed and the race and the series given the blue nose.

It was also settled that there will be no race between the Ford and the Mayflower, although that fact was known several days ago.

Complimented with the accident in which the blue nose was lost, the Ford, which was the winner of the race, was given the blue nose. The Ford, which was the winner of the race, was given the blue nose.

WALKER FOR GASTON

Says Support of Democratic Candidate Only Way to Beat Lodge

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—Joseph Walker, who unsuccessfully contested the republican nomination for United States senator, with Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, announced yesterday that he would support William A. Gaston, democratic candidate for senator. Mr. Walker had previously indicated that he would support John A. Nicholls, the prohibition candidate.

"Lodge must be defeated," Mr. Walker's announcement said. "The real fight is between Lodge and Gaston. A vote for Gaston is a full vote against Lodge. A vote for Nicholls is a half vote against Lodge."

BAZAAR WILL FEATURE ROTARY CLUB BALL

One of the interesting features of the coming Charity ball which is to be held by the Rotary club in Memorial Auditorium on Nov. 17 will be the bazaar. This is in charge of a committee headed by Alvin Weaver and his assistants are Clarence Wood, Marcus J. Cole, Fred Jones, "New" Goodell, "Uncle" Laidley, and Lloyd P. White. This committee is busy at work arranging for the sale of candy, flowers and ginger ale, and lemonade. The candy will be put up in special souvenir boxes and will be sold at several booths as well as by a corps of young ladies who have volunteered for this service. It will be arranged so that you can leave your order at the booth during the charity ball and have flowers sent to anyone, anywhere, on the following day. Flowers for wear during the party will of course be ready on the spot.

FOUND DYING IN STREET

Marty Dupree in French Follies

MARTY DUPREE

"The French Follies of 1922," with Marty Dupree and a bevy of beautiful girls as the principal entertainers, is the attraction for the Opera House beginning next Monday afternoon and continuing for the entire week. Manager William Schaeke has made arrangements to handle a record crowd.

For the present indications predict that the show will be even more successful than those of "Oh-U-Baby" and "Oh-Ha-Ha" companies which drew such immense crowds in the recent engagements. Marty Dupree's entertainers will have more than the usual interest for

Lowell people because of the fact that one of their leaders in songs and dances is Miss Alice Bagley, one of Lowell's favorite songsters. Miss Bagley has not been heard here for years and her appearance will again be a treat for those who are acquainted with her. Other stars in the line of the Follies are Bennie Drohan, Frank Smith and Cliff Blanchard, all recognized among the leading artists in musical comedy circles who have a line of entertainment which will be highly pleasing.

In addition to the entertainers just mentioned, the show will have a large company of beautifully costumed girls who will go through a lengthy varied program full of pep and fun. It is heralded as a clean, wholesome show and one that will leave many pleasant memories. For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the company of people will have a complete show and for Thursday, Friday and Saturday there will be another change of program.

In addition to Marty Dupree's entertainers for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Manager Schaeke has booked Thelma, a mental telepathist, who is widely known for her extraordinary powers and sixth sense vision. This girl is able to answer all the questions you ask her and has solved many problems for people in trouble. Tickets are on sale for the week's performances and may be procured by calling "phone 261.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
"The Prisoner of Zenda," Noted Classic, to Open Big Engagement Tomorrow

For the final week before it closes for an indefinite period during its engagement at the Merrimack Square theatre has drugged another big series of super-attractions that one could wish to travel far and wide to see.

For the first four days of the week beginning Sunday, the big attraction will be the Prisoner of Zenda. Anthony Hope's great story which for years has played with success on the legitimate stage by James K. Hackett, in the screen production the leading roles are taken by Lewis Stone, an actor of recognized ability, and beautiful Ethel Terry, known to every motion picture fan.

No one who has thrilled to the call of romance should fail to see this extraordinary picture which is packed with action, intrigue and a skillful plotting is matched against heroic endeavor and ultimate victory for the loyal adherents of the ruler of the little kingdom of Ruritania. The settings are magnificent, the coronation, the processions, the royal ball are massive, beautiful and impressive. Here is sword play, intrigue, danger, plots, beauty, action and charm.

Lewis Stone as the Englishman, who by the vicarage of fate was called upon for a time to impersonate the king, gives a flawless performance in the dual role. Alice Terry, beautiful as a Lily, regal in appearance and action, makes charming through the love interest of the picture to the ultimate renunciation of her heart's desire. Robert Edson as the faithful Colonel Sapt gives a splendid performance of a character which has infinite appeal. Others who make these well known characters come to life with faithful reality are Stuart Holmes as Duke Alchard, Ramon Navarro as Rupert of Hentzen, Barbara La Marr as Antoinette de Mauban, Malcolm McFie as Count Von Hatzheim, Edward Connelly as Marshal Von Strakenze.

The photography, which is of unusual excellence, is by John E. Seitz. Edward Rose dramatized the story. The usual excellent surrounding program will be presented with "The Prisoner of Zenda," with the International News comedy and the Literary Digest among the attractions. There will be no increase in admission prices for this big program.

For Thursday, Friday and Saturday the feature will be "To Have and to Hold," a screen adaptation of the famous novel of the same name. The Merrimack Square theatre will be closed after the evening performance of Sunday, Nov. 5, for a brief period for alterations. When it re-opens it will be one of the finest and one of the most beautiful theatres in New England. And what is more—the same high quality of photography that made it what it is today will continue to be shown.

THE STRAND
"My Friend the Devil" and "The Girl Who Ran Wild" Early Week Attractions at the Strand

A combination of special features that contribute to a properly balanced photoplay offering is what Manager Torgan has to present at the Strand for the coming week. For the first three days starting on Monday, another big Fox special, "My Friend the Devil," will lead, and the other contribution will be Gladys Walton in "The Girl Who Ran Wild." Both are of the kind of picture stories that teach as well as amuse and entertain. The usual comedy and weekly features will also be shown, while the most numbers will add to a program of 24 hours of solid enjoyment. For the last three days of the week, "More to Be Piled Than Scared," with such favorites as Alice Lake, Rosemary Theby and others are seen. Host Gibson in "The Galloping Kid" will be the runner-up. You sure can't beat these programs.

A word about the Sunday program. Manager Torgan has made every endeavor to raise the standard of his Sunday offerings to a point that will satisfy the most exacting and up to date he has been most successful. What he has to offer for the coming Sunday should please more than ever. An entire change of pictures is one of the pleasing features.

William Fox has already given a host of the super-pictures to the great motion picture public and his special for this year are unquestionably leaders in their class. His "Monte Cristo" and "Silver Wings" reflect the standard of entertainment that his picture produce. Now comes "My Friend the Devil," a grand old tale, deep into the heart of modern life and helps to lead us on through its example to the road to happiness. It is the story of a great scientist, who is a non-believer, a man who thinks that science is greater than God; the story of an unfaithful wife with a great climax in the discovery of the unfaithfulness at the time his daughter is to be married. Here we find "the house" continued on Page 10

IRISH REGIMENT BAND COMING MONDAY

Lovers of Celtic music and Irish dancing will be charmed on next Monday afternoon and evening, when the Irish regiment band makes its appearance here at the Memorial Auditorium. The program includes the lively lilting tunes of the happier mood, as well as the plaintive, sympathetic melody for which the Irish strain is famous. And all will be produced to the best effect by the full band of trained musicians. In addition to the musical program there will be hornpipe and jig dancing by champion dancers who will be accompanied by the bagpipes. This entire program is regarded as one of the best Irish concerts ever given by a band. Tickets are on sale at Steinert's.

LOWELL TEXTILE COUNCIL

Routine business was transacted at last evening's meeting of the Lowell Textile Council. President John Hanley presided and the attendance was large. Reports were received concerning the unemployed textile operatives and it was announced that on Wednesday evening, Nov. 8, a dance will be conducted in Grafton and Merrimack halls for the benefit of those who are out of work. The affair will be conducted under the auspices of the Trades & Labor Council and the Lowell Textile Council.

SPEED OF WIRELESS FASTEST KNOWN

The fastest thing in the world, within the knowledge of science, is radio.

Radio speeds 136,000 miles in one second!

To realize the tremendous velocity of this phenomenon it may be compared with the speed of the voice. Sound travels a little more than 100 feet a second.

A person talking into a radio transmitter can be heard 15 miles off sooner than his voice would be caught by a bystander 10 feet away.

In fact, if present day radio transmission were capable of it, the announcer's voice could be received by the voice to travel these comparative distances would be one ninety-third of a second.

A radio message spoken in New York can be caught in Portland, Ore., in one sixtieth of a second. If sound alone were capable to carry the message this distance, it would take nearly four and one-half hours to reach Portland.

In one second, a radio flash could make seven and one-half trips around the earth. It would take that flash only eight seconds to reach the sun, 33,000,000 miles away.

An actual test of the terrific speed of radio is often made by radio operators on ships in the Pacific. They would first time in on the Honolulu station for its midnight time signal. Immediately and by a quick adjustment, would catch the noon-time signals from Nauka, Germany!

BAD BRUSH FIRE

Practically no damage was done by a brush fire on the farm lands in the rear of the home of George E. Blumard on the Main road in the Collinsville district, early last evening. Before being checked, the fire burned over a considerable acreage of brush land, but there was little other damage.

Hospital Expansion

Planned at Tewksbury

After replacing the old 50-foot iron stanchion erected in 1885, and increasing the excellent water pressure from 35 to 45 pounds at the administration building. Fire protection service has also been recently improved, to meet stringent fire prevention laws. There are now in the vicinity of 40 nurses and attendants employed at Tewksbury—the average for the many quarters in the "hospital town." It is a far cry back to the year 1852, when the ground was laid out for this mighty institution, working for humanity in Massachusetts. The first quarters were opened in the year 1851, with four or five smaller buildings. Today more than 70 buildings grace the long slope of land where the infirmary dwells in a "village by itself."

Inmates Well Cared For

All afflictions are treated here—the blind, the mentally sick, the diseased, the poverty-stricken, the physically weak and helpless and the maimed. Splendid care is given to all patients, rich or poor, of every station. A tour through the infirmary at any hour of the day or night, finds this fact presenting itself forcibly to the casual visitor.

The life at Tewksbury's haven for the unfortunate is not all dull or self-centered. The recreation facilities are now the best. With the holidays coming along, there will be special menus for the days of celebration. "Dinner" on Thanksgiving day and "Christmas" to include chickens freshly killed in the big farm henneries and served roasting-hot from the infirmary kitchens to the inmates, young and old.

The social side at the infirmary is never forgotten. A new box of the latest moving picture films, arrived yesterday and will be shown today. There is to be special music, too, for the young folks as well as old.

There is a regular dancing school— twice a week with a competent female physical instructor, graduate of the Sargent School of Physical Instruction. The song festivals are unique and highly enjoyable. The boys at the institution are being regularly drilled by a physical instructor, a former sergeant of the army, who is doing wonders in his line of work. The fellows for boys and girls are flourishing as never before.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

divided," wrecked, but from the wreck-comes a belief and gentleness that is as soothing to the mind of the viewer as the thrill of the previous scenes were tense.

It is said to be a story that will help to bring happiness into many homes and to help the blind and the lame to feel before they lose. Of this picture one New York dramatic critic wrote: "A powerful drama, splendidly acted by a superb cast. It features one of the most absorbing climaxes in the history of the silent drama. In the east are Barbara Chastleton, Peggy Shaw, Charles Richmond and others.

It seems hardly necessary to make more than passing comment on the glories of this picture. This dainty little star has reached that stage in the picture circles where her name is synonymous with the best. And her latest, "The Girl Who Ran Wild," is no exception to this rule. Miss Walton is seen in a new kind of portrayal—one that brings to the surface her own hidden qualities. The picture has all of the pleasing elements found in the superior grade of screen offerings.

She loved a married man, and when she could not get him she planned to ruin him and his career, not even sparing his baby girl. You may not approve of Rosemary, but as Josephine Clifford, so far as her picture characteristics are concerned, but you certainly will admire her work as an actress. In "The Girl Who Ran Wild," one of the latest dramatic offerings of the screen, in which she, Alice Lake, Gordon Griffith, Josephine Clifford and others appear, "The Girl Who Ran Wild" is the headliner for the week-end.

That Gibson is one of the foremost western stars on the screen and his newest creation that comes out of the west, "The Galloping Kid," is said to have everything in it to make it lively and vigorous.

B. F. KELTH'S THEATRE

Phony Character is Featured in Next Week's Leading Act at B. F. Kelth's Theatre.

The Phony Character will lead tomorrow's bills at the B. F. Kelth's theatre, giving their interesting mélange of popular and classical music. The quartet are specially well trained. Kennedy & Holke, who are drummers, will have a lot of laughable material to present, and Walter and Emily Walton are among the best ventriloquists ever seen in this city. The remainder of the bill will consist of Fieber & Bernier, Boothby & Evedean, Arthur Franklin and Clark & Shaggs.

One of the best sketches of the season is "The Show-Off," which was written by George Kelley, and which will be played by Herbert Russell and yellow players. It is in a way a unique skill, in that it aims at giving something original on the stage. The sketch is a story of a clerk who tries to solve the housing problem by accepting an apartment owned by his wife's mother. Does he get down-hearted? Not at all. He is a real show-off to the world. Always the big fellow, always an actor, even in life, and absolutely unfeared. He talks big, thinks big and lives mighty small. The sketch is one of much merit.

Law Wilson, the "variety boy," will be in second high position on the bill. Wilson was formerly with a well known team, but he is a single of ten class, and he does about everything under the sun. His work is as varied as it is hummily possible for one man to make it.

Bob Carleton and Julie Hollow make a neat couple in many ways. Carleton has written such sterling popular songs as "The Girl Who Ran Wild" and "The Girl Who Ran Wild." It is named after the male member of the duo who gets good tunes out of a lot of unusual instruments. John Orren and Lillian Drew are hilarious and order-maintainers. Their combined efforts will result in an act which is decidedly ahead of anything of its type we have had this season. The duo will appear with Philip Washington and Laura Foster giving artistic novelties ought to make a great hit, while Echo and Kay are daps, who are dexterous with both feet and hands.

HALEO THEATRE

Monogram George E. Hammond has arranged excellent program for Monday and Tuesday.

An excellent program has been arranged for showing at the Haleo theatre on Monday and Tuesday. The feature is "The Woman He Married," and the supporting feature is a sensational production, entitled "The Days of Buffalo Bill," also a snappy comedy and the "Pathé News."

The production, "The Woman He Married," adds to the screen triumphs that she has achieved to date. She is always a favorite with the Haleo patrons but in this picture the theme drama with which it is allied endears her to all who see her. The entire program is one of exceptional merit.

SUNDAY AT THE SPAN

Manager Samuel Torgun has another specially arranged program for Sunday that will surely appeal to all lovers of the better grade of entertainment. Constant Thimbridge, one of the screen's biggest favorites, will appear in "Sail Stealing." There will be other good picture features, while the vaudeville will have as a headliner the famous Hawaiian Sextet, a collection of artists who have been starred on Broadway. Don't forget that it's the biggest show in town, and popular prices prevail.

BILLERICA GRANGE

The Thursday evening business meeting, social and supper held by Billerica Grange in Old Fellows hall, Billerica, was well attended. The third and fourth degrees were conferred upon 12 candidates for membership. The index degree train gave an excellent performance of the ritual work. Many visitors from neighboring towns were present for the supper and ceremonies.

MISSION HOLDS HALLOWEEN PARTY

The annual Halloween party, under the auspices of St. John's mission of Chelmsford Centre, was held last evening in the town hall and was largely attended. The decorations were very pretty and the evening's program was very enjoyable. The affair was in the form of a character party and there were costumes galore. The first number on the program was a grand march at the close of which prizes were awarded for the prettiest and the most grotesque costumes. Dancing numbers were given by a group of young girls under the direction of Miss Doris C. Conley, of this city. Later general dancing was started and continued till a seasonable hour. The committee in charge consisted of the following: Mrs. Warren J. Kneeland, Paul Pratt, John Wright, James Doland, Shal Simard, Raymond C. Harzette and Harold Scott. Refreshments were served by the following: Mrs. Francis DeKall, chairman; William Gaudin, George Walte, Mrs. Frank Green and Mrs. J. L. Heron.

HELD WHIST AND CONCERT BENEFIT

The C.M.A.C. hall in Pawtucket at the occasion being a whist and concert under the auspices of Court Blanche de Castille, P.A.C. for the benefit of the poor of the city. Miss Ida Fortin, president of the court, presided over the evening's program and under her direction every number was carried out in a very satisfactory manner.

The early evening was devoted to the card game and at the close of the contest prizes were awarded the winners. Later a varied entertainment program was carried out as follows: Exhibition drill, Guido Blanche de Castille; piano selections, Miss Bertha Tremont; vocal selections, Miss Claudia Rivet; vocal selections, Miss Clatter; recitation, Thomas Rochette; violin selections, Miss Agnes Grete; selections, Emerson Four. The accompanists were Miss Bernard, and Miss Blanche Poirier. The committee in charge was headed by Miss Ida Fortin.

OUT OUR WAY

P. J. GRALTON
Now is the time to buy a home, and P. J. Gralton is the man who will sell you just what you want. Mr. Gralton is one of the highest real estate men in the city because he has a fine list of property of all descriptions. He is honest in his dealings and his motto is to satisfy both parties concerned in the transaction. His offices are at Fairburn building.

A. BLANCHETTE & CO.
Newly-weds are respectfully invited to look over the fine and varied stock of furniture on exhibition at the store of A. Blanchette & Co. at 462 Merrimack street. The best available in the line of furniture is now at the store at prices that are really surprising. Whether you have the cash or not is of little importance, for this company sells on the installment plan.

BACHELDER'S
It is said that this season is the best in the year for motorcycle riding. It is true that the air is a little cool, but you will not mind such a little thing if you are riding a good, comfortable machine. Bachelder, agent for the Indian motorcycle, says if you try a ride on one of his machines you will be more than pleased. Inspect the Indian and buy one now. It is classed among the best motorcycles on the market.

WESLEY D. PIERCE
There is a scarcity of building craftsmen in the city, but Wesley D. Pierce, the plumbing and heating contractor at 425 Bridge street, says he has men to handle all the work that is coming his way. So that if there is anything wrong with the boiler or heater at your home, get in touch right away with Mr. Pierce and he will have the troubles mended at once.

Alabamian, now senator, but at that time member of the house, got into a controversy with a republican colleague, and jumping over the desk that intervened, rushed at his opponent with intent to "lay him out" then and there. But Tom stumbled and fell flat in the aisle, rolling over and over down the gentle incline, and before he could regain his feet, the sergeant-at-arms stood over him, holding the mace and demanding in loud terms and with much formality of utterance that the prostrate southerner "rise and keep order," which Mr. Hefflin reluctantly did, and peace was quickly restored, though excitement ran high on floor and gallery.

a strenuous even though short, winter session. The mace, which is the symbol of authority of the sergeant-at-arms, has gone through a thorough course of repairs. The sacredness of the mace has never been questioned or underestimated, when the house grows turbulent, as is often the case. When the speaker cannot quell a disturbance, by loud demands for order and the sharp taps of the gavel, he calls on the sergeant-at-arms to "enforce the rules of the house." Then that official seizes the mace from its stand at the right hand of the speaker's desk, rushes down the aisle and commands combatants to come to order in the name of the congress of the United States. And never yet in the history of the congress have members failed to respond to the matter in what state of high excitement or indignity they might be. The mace is a thick ebony rod surmounted by a silver globe representing the earth, on top of which is a silver eagle. The mace is held of such value as the symbol of congressional authority, that whenever repairs are required, they are done by experts in the presence of an official guard. In that way it is protected from the chances taken by relic hunters. I remember on one oc-

UPHOLDS MRS. GIBSON'S STORY

Prosecutor Mott Finds Persons to Corroborate Charges Made by Farmer-Woman

Hall-Mills Case Complex But Not a Mystery, Says Special Deputy

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 27.—(By the Associated Press) Special Deputy Attorney General Mott stated today that he had found a person who corroborated the story told by the farmer-woman, Mrs. Jane Gibson, who witnessed the slaying of Sept. 14, of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills.

"This case," said Mr. Mott, "is complex, but it is not a mystery."

He said that he could take his evidence to the grand jury immediately but that the complexity of the case made it necessary for him to go slowly. He would not name the witness, he said, had corroborated Mrs. Gibson's statements.

Progress had been made by his operatives engaged in the search for the two automobiles Mrs. Gibson said she saw in De Russy's lane a short distance from the murder scene, Mr. Mott added.

PONZI WANTS STATE TO PAY EXPENSES

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—Before the opening of today's session of the trial of Charles Ponzi for larceny in his financial schemes, Ponzi asked the court that the commonwealth pay the expenses of witnesses for the defense. He said he was bankrupt and without funds. Judge Fessick said he had no authority to grant the request.

Robert De Mascos of Lenoxfield, formerly a deputy United States court at Newbury, who had charge of the foreign departments of several banks since he came to this city in 1913, testified that he became general manager of Ponzi's business in July, 1920. His salary, he said, was $1000 a month.

He said he started to systematize the business, but remained in the position only one month "because of the way things were being done."

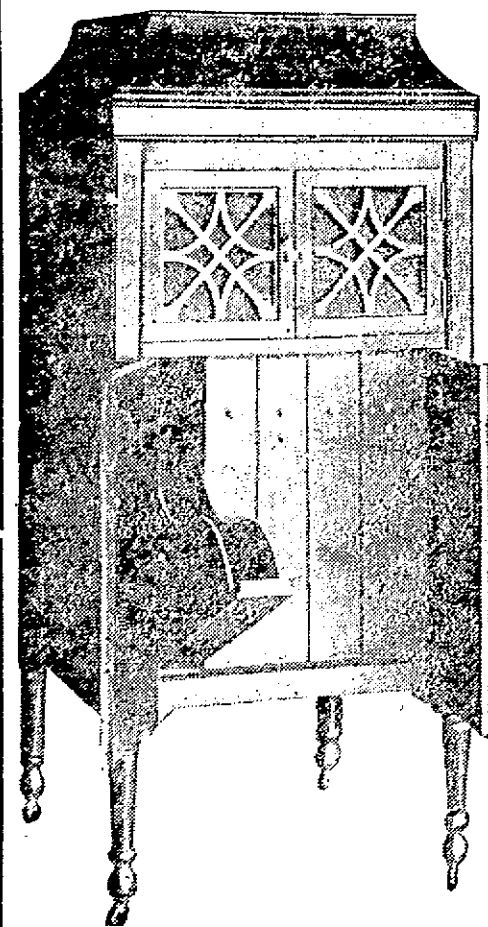

He said he never saw in Ponzi's office any of the international postal reply coupons which ostensibly formed the basis of the business. Under cross examination, he said it was practicable to deal in such coupons and to make a good profit.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 27.—(By the Associated Press) Orders to close the Mexican consulate in New York if the Oliver action there was not immediately withdrawn were despatched to Washington last night by the foreign office, which claims that under international law, the government is immune in such procedure. Orders asking the other consulates had not been sent up to date today. It was stated but were being considered.

March Pupils Out of Convent During Fire

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Oct. 27.—Seventeen nuns marched 50 pupils out of the convent of St. Louis de Gonzague parish here this morning when a fire, starting in the cellar filled the building with smoke. The children were occupying temporary quarters on the street floor during the erection of a new parochial school. The fire reached the third story through partitions but the damage is estimated at only $2500.

"Bishop of All Outdoors" Shot and Killed by Mrs. Margaret Castleton

HAVRE, Mont., 27.—The Rev. Leonard Jacob Christler, rector of St. Mark's church of the Incarnation at Havre, widely known in the west as "The Bishop of All Outdoors" was shot and instantly killed in his home at Havre at 1 o'clock this morning, by Mrs. Margaret Castleton, wife of former Judge Castleton of the district court of Hill county, who then committed suicide.

Mrs. Castleton had returned to Havre recently from a summer spent as superintendent of an eastern Chautauqua circuit. The two families had long been friends. Mrs. Castleton left no word of explanation as to her reasons for the shooting.

BROTHERS INDICTED

Former Heads of Million Dollar Hair Tonic Company Named by Grand Jury

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 27.—Louis and Abraham Auerbach of Cleveland, declared by the government to be former heads of the "million dollar" hair tonic company, located here, were indicted with four other Cleveland men by the federal grand jury late today, charged with conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law in connection with an alleged $1,000,000 alcohol running place here.

MATRIMONIAL

CLOSE to 50 Lowell people attended the wedding of Mr. Pierre C. Favreau of this city and Miss Rose Alma Perron of Salem, which took place last evening at St. Joseph's church, Salem. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Grenier. The bride wore white tulle and carried a bouquet of roses and she was given away by her father, Mr. Joseph Perron. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Lucien Favreau of this city. At the close of the ceremony a wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 38 Cabot street, and later the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to New York, Washington, Atlantic City and Philadelphia. After Nov. 15 they will be at home to their friends at 49 Lamb street, this city. The groom is a member of the firm of Favreau Bros., Inc., of this city, while the bride is a vocal student at the New England Conservatory of Music at Boston.

EXPORTS OF COAL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Exports of coal for the month of September included 35,688 tons of anthracite valued at $119,337, compared with 255,165 tons valued at $2,104,619 in September, 1921.

BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT WIRE DESPATCHES

PETERBOROUGH, England, Oct. 27.—(By the Associated Press) Former Premier Asquith, speaking at a Liberal meeting here today, said the independent Liberals will consider that the great need of the country was peace and retrenchment. He declared the final blow to the coalition was the mishandling of the Near Eastern crisis.

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—Harold S. Adams was sentenced in the superior court today to imprisonment in the state prison for three to five years for larceny of $2,355 from the Edison Electric Illuminating Co., while in its employ as a bookkeeper.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—(By the Associated Press) While the latest news from Rome shows a continuance of a crisis in Italy, there is nothing in the advice received today to indicate that anything in the nature of a resolution is in progress.

ROME, Oct. 27.—(By the Associated Press) King Victor Emmanuel will arrive in Rome tonight. He has expressed a desire to consult tomorrow on the situation with Signors Tittoni and De Nicola, the presidents, respectively, of the senate and the chamber of deputies, with Benito Mussolini the leader of the fascists, and with Luigi Federzoni, leader of the nationalist party.

BANGOR, Me., Oct. 27.—American University, with five million above 10 years of age unable to read or write, affords a breeding ground for Bolshevism, industrial destructiveness and all sorts of ills that may be avoided by properly educating the children, said William Mather Lewis, chief of the educational service of the United States chamber of commerce, in an address at the second day's session of the Maine Teachers' convention here today.

WILMINGTON, Del.—The directors of the Hercules Powder Co. have declared out of the surplus earnings, a stock dividend of 100 per cent on the common capital stock of the company.

LIVERMORE FALLS.—A posse of a hundred men was searching the woods today for the person who is believed to have climbed to death Arthur Allen of Riley. Allen's body was found behind a rock near a sand pit.

NEW YORK.—The Canadian schooner Emerald, captured by the prohibition navy about two weeks ago outside the three-mile limit, probably will be released to its British owners within a few days, U. S. Dist. Atty. Green announced today.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Mrs. W. D. Harris of New York, known on the stage as Marguerite Gilbert, dancer and violinist, shot and killed herself in a room at her hotel here early today.

PHILADELPHIA.—Physicians at the Germantown hospital where William T. Hilden, national tennis champion, is being treated for an infected finger on his right hand, expressed the opinion today that the infection will leave no permanent injury.

NEW YORK.—The Canadian schooner repolitan opera singer, whose last role was that of Suzuki in "Madame Butterfly," died in Paris today.

BOSTON.—The annual convention of the New England Dental society brought more than 200 members of that body to Boston today.

SALEM, Oct. 27.—A sentence of five to seven years in state prison was imposed on Antonio Costello today by Judge Flynn after Costello had been adjudged guilty to an assault upon 12-year-old Harold LeBlanc some time ago. The court overruled a motion for a new trial made by Costello's counsel.

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—President J. H. Hustis of the Boston & Maine Railroad announced today that negotiations had been closed, subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce commission, and the various state commissions, for the sale of $4,000,000 of general mortgage 6 per cent 10-year gold bonds through a syndicate of Boston banks.

20 PERSONS VICTIMS OF ALCOHOLIC POISONING

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—Reports that 20 persons, including three women, had been found suffering from alcoholic poisoning in Boston during the last week, resulted today in the despatch of a special squad of police inspectors on a tour of the city. One of the stricken women died.

The police in their search for the dispensers of poison liquor endeavored to find persons who are said to make a practice of offering several drinks for 50 or 75 cents.

ULSTER TO "CONTRACT OUT" OF FREE STATE

BELFAST, Oct. 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Ulster parliament adjourned today until Dec. 12, when Ulster, Premier Craig announced, will "contract out" of the Irish Free State. He added the Ulster parliament is anxious to sit at the earliest time possible in order to prove to the world that it had no hesitation in the course it purposed taking.

New Style Furniture that will lend Color and Life

New modernized adaptations, taken from the old-time masters, are here reflected in the newer furniture which is now on display in our showrooms. The massive furniture, motifs taken from the Renaissance style, appeal to the sharp judge of beauty. Color and life in furniture are more forcefully brought forth than ever before.

For the home of today and tomorrow, this is the kind of furniture we would suggest your having. The very name of excellence today, it will retain its good looks and serve its intended purpose well in the many years to come. Furniture of this kind if purchased pays for itself many times over, in the amount of money spent, were an inferior grade of furniture purchased originally.

Jack Daw's Adventures (No. 95)

The officer knew that Jack was not an ordinary street urchin, so he took him off to one side and questioned him. Jack told him the complete story of his treasure hunt and of his many thrilling experiences.

The officer took a liking to Jack and gave him permission to continue digging for the hidden treasure. "I've told the people about here not to annoy you," he told Jack. "I sincerely hope you will find the treasure."

Jack then jumped in the hole and started to dig again. Shortly all of the men and boys who had been watching him disappeared. This surprised Jack. He finds out why they left in the next chapter. Continued.

PUPP SLEEVES

Shoulder puffs are seen on many of the new sleeves. Sometimes the puff constitutes the entire effort at a sleeve, but in other cases there is a long tight sleeve below which reaches for over the wrist.

VICTORIAN STYLES

Quint draperies with puffs over the hips and gashes that tie in the bows are reminiscent of the Victorian days. Bishop sleeves also are being revived.

PAID TRIBUTE TO ROOSEVELT

Memory of Splendid American Perpetuated at Inspiring Meeting in Auditorium

Addresses by Hon. Richard Olney and Rear Admiral Henry A. Wiley, U. S. N.

The life of that splendid American, Theodore Roosevelt, his ideals, his deep-rooted love of country, his fearlessness, his indomitable spirit and his great patriotism, were told inspiringly yesterday afternoon at a meeting at the Memorial Auditorium, called to perpetuate his memory on the fifth anniversary of his birth.

The speakers were Hon. Richard Olney and Rear Admiral Henry A. Wiley, U. S. N. A day or so ago his Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell expressed regret at being unable to attend as a speaker and just before the meeting was called, word came from him, Henry Cabot Lodge that a torn and shattered voice made it impossible for him to keep his engagement.

The gathering was in response to a call sent out by the Women's National Roosevelt association and the arrangements were left to Mrs. Henry M. Thompson of Nesmith street, local chairman. It was the first public expression of high regard for the life of Roosevelt that has occurred locally and the result of the meeting, indeed, must have been a source of great satisfaction to Mrs. Thompson, who worked so hard for its success.

The sense and spirit of the program, which ran for an hour and a half, seemed to center in the vigorous acts of Roosevelt as he went forward in his colorful career finally to reach the president's chair, and the lasting impressions his life has made upon those who live after him.

His full-blooded, red-blooded Americanism was emphasized by both speakers and his statesmanlike leadership and staunch statesmanship called forth stirring bursts of oratory.

The meeting was preceded by an enjoyable program played by the high school orchestra, led by Frederick O. Blunt.

Hon. J. J. Callan, assistant rector of St. Anne's, with a splendid service record as a captain in the World war, opened the meeting with prayer. Mayor George H. Brown officially extended a welcome and outlined the inception of the Roosevelt association, and its purpose and aims. He spoke particularly of the conservation of the Roosevelt house in New York city and turned over the meeting to Mrs. Thompson, who served as chairman.

Sketches of Life of Roosevelt

Hon. Richard H. Olney was the first speaker. He said he never knew Roosevelt and never had seen him, but gave impressions of his life gleaned from persons who knew him intimately.

He sketched the great American's life from early boyhood to the presidency, telling of the frail body at the age of nine, his successful struggle to develop it and his rapid progress in the life of the nation once he had set his feet along the road of service. He covered his service as a member of the United States Civil Service commission under President Harrison and Cleveland, his work as police commissioner of New York city, his service to the empire state as governor, his election as vice-president and his rise to the presidency after the assassination of McKinley. Also, he told of his Spanish war service and his intention to render active service for his country in the World war.

By story and incidents in Roosevelt's life while president he brought out the fairness of the man and dwelt at length upon his fervent pleas for preparedness in 1914 and up to the time the United States entered the world conflict.

"The untiring and sacrificial efforts of Theodore Roosevelt and Augustus P. Gardner to stir the country to a realization of the need of preparedness never can be forgotten," said Mr. Olney.

He expressed the belief that the colonel's trip to Brazil, where he contracted malaria and the death of his son Quentin, when shot down in air combat in France, greatly shortened his life.

"The memory of Theodore Roosevelt will forever remain fragrant in the mind of every American man and woman," he declared in closing, "for his character combined the patriotism of Washington with the great wisdom of Lincoln and the tenacity of Grover Cleveland."

Plea for Adequate Navy

Rear Admiral Henry A. Wiley happily linked the memorial exercises with the observance of Navy day and after paying tribute to Roosevelt's accomplishments, made a plea for adequate naval strength and severely raked the propaganda of pacifist organizations.

"No service such as these are necessary to perpetuate the memory of Roosevelt," he declared, "for his name will endure as long as America endures."

In his plea for an adequate navy, Rear Admiral Wiley said an inefficient navy is worse than none. "It won't give us the equipment and ma-

PRISONER IS STILL MISSING

Aviator Coming "Out of the Blue" Aids in Prisoner's Escape

Machine Landed in Potato Patch and Trusty Myron Smith Skiddooed

(Special Dispatch to The Sun.)
CONCORD JUNCTION, Oct. 28.—Digging Green Mountain potatoes in the freedom of a 20-acre market garden with a band of husky lads who had enough Kentucky chewing to go around the battalion of temporary farmhands who spend their evenings behind the bars in the Massachusetts reformatory, wasn't so bad—not so bad.

But when a strapping second "lost" army feller fresh from the Framingham aviation field slid out of the blue and trundled along the potato patches and finally came to a full stop, Myron L. Smith, a "trusty," had aspirations to snarl without further delay. Only Myron made a wing jump into a nearby patch of tangled woodland instead of sailing the ether, and hasn't been seen since.

Two dozen cap-aple bluecoats from the reformatory official staff spent all of yesterday and last night, too, searching the county towns and byways, confident of locating Myron, but never hitting the good-by trail. Early in the evening a squad of officers learned that Myron was headed toward Lowell or some way station. Auto scouts hustled over the main and back roads to Chelmsford and then moved to Chelmsford Centre, taking the roads back toward Littleton and Lake Nagog, and thence south and east, but my trace of Myron, the fleet footer with ambitions.

It was the cleanest—and easiest—getaway recorded in reformatory circles for some moons. During the past six months, half a dozen youthful prisoners with eager yearnings, have decamped from the ranks of the forty or more farm hands that work in valleys and meadows the reformatory crew of dirt-trailers.

The wide, open spaces, as Percival Harbenster used to write in his great American novel, are considered ideal for the boys who have to stick to the Massachusetts reformatory for quite a while until they get paroled in due season. But, until yesterday, every prisoner who managed a good getaway from the daylight-saving farm run by the state, found the rural maze system of highways and cross roads too intricate to solve, each thrubbing wheel in their push for true or realms getting caught in some nearby town or cowardly while seeking succor in some farmer's milk storage or pantry quarters.

Myron, however, appears to have the advantage over his match who always gets caught in the act. He got away. Some of the reformatory officers believe a friendly automobile may have helped the ambitious 22-year-old, who once hailed from Lynn and the shoe factory realm, in his journey home. At any rate, while that spiffy vehicle in the near dark night has been responsible for drawing the attention of prisoners and guards and gave Myron his first and only opportunity to find the opposite side of that handy woodlot, it wouldn't do to blame the army man, who had to land somewhere in the reformatory market garden to adjust a fustigle.

For nearly an hour after the departure of Myron, the lieutenant gave his services gratuitously to the boys in blue and soared over the fields and hills in a hot push for true or realms, and part of Acton, trying to locate hiding Myron, until the time came for the flier's return to Framingham, calling it a day.

This morning, the search for Mr. Smith, the wanderer, was renewed in deadly earnest, with scores of wide-eyed Middlesex farmers on the edges of Lowell to the far south, east and western sections of the county, letting farm work go hang in their efforts to locate Myron behind some hay stack, brush pile or hayrack wall.

You see the commonwealth of Massachusetts gives a cash reward of $50 to the first man who nab an escaped prisoner. That is why you can't get any Middlesex farmers on the Bell lines this morning. They are absent by their own leave, for fifty greenbacks don't grow on any rural bushes in the fall of the year after the crops are in.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. John J. Miner of North Chelmsford and Miss May Doherty, of Brookside, Westford, were married recently at St. John's church, North Chelmsford, the ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. E. F. Kennedy. Miss Blanche Doherty was bridesmaid, while the best man was Mr. Henry Miner, a brother of the groom. The couple will make their home in Pleasant street, North Chelmsford.

terial for efficiency, it would be better to think of the declared.

The girl officers of the High school battalions served as ushers, and it was their first appearance in their blue and gold uniforms.

Led by girls of the high school the audience sang "Onward, Christian Soldiers" and brought the exercises to close by singing two stanzas of "The Star Spangled Banner."

Musical Program

The high school orchestra's program at the exercises, which was splendidly given, ran as follows:

March, El Capitan ..... Sousa
March, Grand Fanfare ..... Sousa
March, The Gallant Seventh ..... Sousa
Columbia ..... Rollinson
(Carnet solo, William Roberts)
March, Stars and Stripes Forever ..... Sousa

NO SOONER DID THE MISSING MARSHAL, OTEY WALKER, RETURN TO TOWN WITH TWO TRAMPS THAN AUNT SARAH PEABODY GAVE HIM A GOOD TONGUE LASHING.

TO REINSTATE COALITION IN THE GOVERNMENT

LONDON, Oct. 28.—(By the Associated Press.) Arrangements between conservatives and coalition leaders to oppose one another's candidates in certain constituencies, are given prominence in today's anti-coalition newspapers. As they have it, the agreements for co-operation or mutual non-opposition are breaking with an obvious drift toward reinstating coalition in the government.

It is the contention of the Free Liberals that this situation reveals that the country is being shepherded back to its old policy, the only difference being that it is in new hands on the Tory side the extreme die-hard are clearly restive over this supposed tendency.

ANNUAL MEETING OF FOX HUNTERS' CLUB

Announcements went out today that the New England Fox Hunter's club will hold its 15th annual fall meet and hunt in Winchester during the week beginning November 12.

Lowell frequenters of the outside hunting grounds and all local hot stove members of the fox hunting fraternity are delighted to hear that headquarters will be maintained all the week at Hotel Winchester, where reservations already have been made for more than 100 members and guests.

On Tuesday evening the annual business meeting and election of officers for the coming year will be held at the annual banquet—the annual "hunger" with a bill of fare always complete from cover to cover—will be held at the Winchester Hotel.

It is expected that Lowell members of the club will be on deck for the week's festivities or at least one day out of the list. Last year a dozen or more local gunners—not forgetting the hounds—made the club tournament and thoroughly enjoyed it.

TWO INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Two persons were slightly injured and automobiles were damaged as a result of three automobile accidents, which occurred yesterday afternoon and this morning.

William Babin, aged 2 and residing at 1022 Middlesex street, was slightly injured this morning at about 10:30 o'clock when he was struck by a machine operated by Arnold W. H. Hannah of Hollis street, Dunstable, in Westford street, near School street.

The driver of the car claiming that the boy ran from the sidewalk in front of an automobile that was stopped and subsequently in the path of his car. The lad was treated at the office of a Westford street physician.

Shortly before noon today Lewis H. Hinchinson of 225 Westford street was slightly injured when he was struck by an automobile operated by Leo J. Leandre of 15 Walker place. The accident occurred at the corner of Loring and Westford streets.

Yesterday's accidents occurred late in the afternoon at the junction of Chelmsford and Thorndike streets, when an automobile operated by Arthur E. Robertson, of 5 Lafayette st., and a car driven by Harry Ogden, also of this city, came together. Both cars were damaged.

HELD HALLOWEEN DANCING PARTY

The Halloween dancing party conducted last evening in Highland hall by the members of Chevalier Temple, No. 101, Pythian Sisters, was a great success. The hall was beautifully decorated in the popular Halloween style of the day. Large pumpkins were banded high on the stage, and witches and goblins peered out from every nook and corner. From the chandeliers hung gay streamers of orange, with black streamers in between.

ANNUAL CELEBRATION IN THE GOVERNMENT

Division 11, A. O. H. Has Anniversary — James C. Reilly Principal Speaker

With several hundred members and friends in attendance, the 49th anniversary of Division 11, A.O.H., was observed in A.O.H. hall, Middle street, last night. The anniversary celebration, which has become an annual event with this division, followed a brief business meeting of the members and was a great success from beginning to end.

President James J. McMahon was toastmaster of the evening and after a few introductory remarks, he announced, as the principal speaker, James C. Reilly, assistant district attorney.

Mr. Reilly confined his address to an informal speech on his experiences in the important office of district attorney and recounted several amusing incidents which had come to his attention during his regime. The speaker revealed the methods of gangsters and started the audience with a laugh. He also pointed out the importance of having a union. His interesting discussion of various points of law, the composition of the grand jury and the numerous criminal investigation cases which have been disclosed in his office, were listened to with the greatest attention. Other speakers were James O'Sullivan, John J. Donovan, and Thomas J. Corbett, each of whom congratulated the division on its birthday and spoke highly of its endeavors throughout the many years of its existence. Each speaker was accorded a great ovation as he concluded his speech.

A social followed the speech-making, several orchestral selections being given by the Sylvester Syncopeaters. The chairman then introduced John Shugue and Thomas McCabe, who entertained with a delightful duet. A violin solo was given by James O'Garra and a harp solo by Patrick Callahan. Refreshments were served at intermission with the following committee in charge: John P. McInerney, chairman; John Talty, John Kennedy, Thomas J. McInerney, Dennis Dewire, Joseph Garrity and John Dewire.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Although this morning's docket in the district court was not very large, several cases were quickly disposed of. A fine of $100 each, for illegal keeping, were imposed on Soltra Alefakos and Vincent Gomes. Each pleaded guilty to the charge and paid the fine.

The liquor squad visited Distrelav's premises on Oct. 5, and found a 75-gallon still in operation. Three gallons of distilled liquor, several empty jugs and a bottle of dynamite were found. Distrelav's denied all ownership of the "stuff," stating that the property belonged to his brother. In order to consider the evidence more fully, the court ordered a continuance until Monday morning.

Arthur E. Babin was charged with the larceny of an automobile battery and with operating an automobile without the proper registration. Captain Petrie testified on the witness stand that he confronted the defendant with the theft and that the latter denied all knowledge of it.

The battery was found in a repair station and Babin later admitted that he had taken it from another machine with the intention of borrowing it for one night. He pleaded guilty to operating an unregistered automobile. The case was continued until next Tuesday.

A continuance until next Thursday was granted August S. Anthony, charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. He was released in $500 bonds. For a like offense, Peter Prescott was granted a continuance of one week.

Leonard G. Bonner, who was arrested early this week for carrying a pistol, had his case continued one week, while the charge of larceny against Joseph P. Clark was continued for sentence until Nov. 11. Canille Colonna and Harry Moody, for statutory offenses, will appear one week from today.

SOCIAL BY HOLY ROSARY SODALITY

The annual social of the Sacred Heart Holy Rosary sodality, held in the School hall last evening, proved one of the most successful on record. It took the form of a Halloween party, a grand march with the participants in appropriate costumes, being one of the most enjoyable features. There was a large attendance, the hall being taxed to its capacity. Among those present were Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I., pastor, Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O.M.I., spiritual director and Rev. William Barry, O.M.I.

A splendid musical program was carried out with each and every number being well received. The program was as follows: Hymn, Mother Dear, Oh Pray For Me. Selection, Sacred Heart Orchestra. Irish Jig, Emma Sheehan. Piano duet, Irene Hammond Teresa Corcoran. All for the Love of Mike, Irene Harkins. Hestiation Waltz, Rose McAdell, Catherine Healy. Solo, Marie Toy.

Russian dance, Christine Fay, Marion Peppard. Irish Jig, Sadie Kenney. Irish Jig, Dorothy Roulne. Solo, Madeline McLaughlin. Step Dance, Margaret Mooney. Piano solo, Veronica Barr. Fire Fly Dance, Margaret Higgins. Reading, Mary Casey.

Solo, Mrs. Curtis Garrity. Following the concert general dancing was enjoyed and refreshments served. The affair was in charge of the officers of the sodality, Mrs. Maria Doherty, president, Mrs. Eugene P. Sullivan, vice president, Mrs. Mary (Louise) secretary and Mrs. Bryan McFadden, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Buckley, known in the theatrical profession as "Tid and Alice Morrison," who are connected with a well known stage company, are the guests of Mrs. Buckley's mother, Mrs. James North, who is making her home with her sister, Mrs. James E. Needham, 119 Fairland road. The couple have just returned from a trip from coast to coast.

A telephone alarm was sent in at 10:10 o'clock this morning for a brush fire off A street.

COUGHS DO NOT WEAR OFF

They Are Nature's Danger Signal

Many people do nothing for a cold. They rely on their "sugget" to rid them of their cough and to wear the cold away.

But colds do not wear off. If unchecked and allowed to go on unchecked, they prey on the weakest organs. They break down and destroy body tissues, they undermine a person's power of resistance and leave the body structure in a dangerously weakened condition. Then, when disease germs are taken into the system, complications rapidly set in, oftentimes with serious, if not fatal results.

Avoid these dangers. Take Father John's Medicine now and build up new body strength. Get rid of that cough before it gets a grip on you. Father John's Medicine has a history of 63 years of successful treatment of coughs and colds and as a body builder. No dangerous drugs—Adv.

MAYFLOWER DESCENDANTS

Bill Filed in Legislature Seeking Sanction for Organization of Corporation

To Be Known as the "General Society of Mayflower Descendants"

(Special to The Sun.)
BOSTON, Oct. 28.—Hearing what is perhaps the most imposing list of names of distinguished men ever appended to a petition to the Massachusetts legislature, a bill was filed yesterday seeking legislative sanction for the organization of a corporation to be known as the "General Society of Mayflower Descendants."

Heading the list of petitioners is Major General Leonard Wood, and others include former President William H. Taft; United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge; Myles Standish of Boston; Judge Marcus Morton of the superior court of Newbury; Rev. Paul R. F. French of Randolph, former United States attorney at Boston; Robert M. Boyd, Jr., of Newark, N. J.; William Bradford Hu, of New York; George Elwood Bowman of Boston, and Addison P. Munroe of Providence.

It is the intention of the petitioners to organize in this state, the first settlers of which were their ancestors, a corporation which shall serve as a sort of "mother society" for those now organized in other states of the union. They express in their petition the opinion that their society is worthy of the dignity of a society of incorporation by the legislature of the commonwealth.

Accompanying the petition is a bill, the first section of which provides that the signers, their associates and successors, shall be made a corporation by the name of "The General Society of Mayflower Descendants." Continuing, the bill provides:

"The purpose of the corporation shall be to perpetuate to a remote posterity the memory of the Pilgrim fathers; to maintain and defend the principles of most enjoyable freedom; to be a source of inspiration to the youth of the state; to promote the Christian faith, and advancement of ye Christian faith, and honour of our country; to promote the interests that are common to all the state; to secure united effort to discover and publish original matter in regard to the Pilgrims, together with existing data known only to antiquarians; and to authenticate, preserve and mark historical spots made memorable by Pilgrim associations.

"The corporation shall have all the powers and privileges and be subject to all duties, restrictions and liabilities set forth in all general laws now or hereafter in force, applicable to such corporation and not inconsistent with this act.

"The corporation shall have power to establish by-laws suitable to carry out the powers hereby granted, including provisions as to the admission, suspension and expulsion of members, and the delegation of powers to officers, committees and persons having the general powers of directors.

"The management or control of the property and the affairs of said corporation subject to its by-laws shall be vested in a board of general assistants who shall be elected and may be provided for in the by-laws to be adopted by the corporation; and there shall be such other officers with such duties as the by-laws may prescribe.

"The corporation is hereby authorized to hold real and personal estate in an amount not exceeding $100,000, with authority to sell, purchase, mortgage, lease or rent the same, or any part thereof."

PAWTUCKET SOCIAL CLUB JUBILEE

The committee in charge of arrangements for the observance of the silver jubilee of the Pawtucket Social club held a meeting in the rooms of the club in Moody street last evening and decided that the event be in the form of a banquet, which will be held at the N.Y.C. hall on the evening of Nov. 20. Prominent speakers will be secured for the occasion. The committee in charge of arrangements consists of Rodrigue Descheneaux, Rosalre Tourangeau, Frederick Giroux, Walter Alexander, Joseph Sawyer, Alphonse Dolan, Enzo Brassard and Origene Descoicau.

WHITE SATIN

White satin is no longer exclusively for the bride, but for the society and the matron as well. Presently it is made sleeveless, and depends upon its smartness for its line and drape. Often it is headed with white or colored beads.

TO ENDOW BED FOR SICK NURSES

Success in large measure was attained by the Nurses' Alumnae association of the Lowell General hospital at the bazaar held yesterday afternoon and evening in St. Anne's parish house for the purpose of raising funds to endow a bed for sick nurses. At least $300 will be necessary.

MRS. ANNIE PAGE

CANASTOTA, New York. "I feel it my duty to write to thank you for the wonderful benefit I have received from 'Fruit-a-tives.' I suffered for 20 years with Rheumatism. I had taken a number of different remedies, but they did not do me any good."

One day last fall, I saw your advertisement in our paper and I bought a 25c trial box. They helped me, so I bought two more boxes and I can hardly realize that I ever had Rheumatism. I can get in and out of my bed without the least trouble. If the Rheumatism ever does come back, I know just what to take to drive it away.

Your wonderful fruit medicine, "Fruit-a-tives," brought me relief when everything else had failed."

MRS. ANNIE PAGE.

SAW MRS. PHILLIPS SLAY MRS. MEADOWS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—Prosecution and defense were busy today with preparations for the resumption Monday of the trial of Mrs. Clara Phillips for the murder of Mrs. Alberto Tremaine Meadows, young widow, who was beaten to death with a hammer. No session was held today.

Yesterday Mrs. Peggy Caffee, former chorus girl and principal witness for the state, gave the jury the version of a reputed eye-witness to the slaying. After declaring that she had seen Mrs. Phillips strike Mrs. Meadows repeatedly with a hammer and had seen the defendant leading over the unconscious form of the young widow, Mrs. Caffee gave her version of her alleged trip back into the city from the outlying district. After reaching town the witness left Mrs. Phillips who, she said, had threatened several times on the trip to kill her if she told what had happened.

ESCAPED BEING CRUSHED TO DEATH BY INCHES

BOSTON, Oct. 25.—A lucky turn of fate today saved Edward Lewis from being crushed by a half ton iron girder that slipped from its sling as it was being hoisted over the eleventh floor of a building under construction on Milk street and crashed to the pavement. Lewis was driving in the front seat of an automobile and the end of the girder wrecked the engine of the machine. Lewis was showered with glass from the broken windshield, but escaped injury. The other end of an automobile standing in front of Lewis' machine.

PLAYS BY GIRLS' FRIENDLY SOCIETY

Two plays were presented by the Girls' Friendly society of St. John's church, last evening, the plays being "As Ye Sow" and "Everyday Gold." The attendance was large and the presentations were under the direction of Mrs. Henry Quinby and Miss Fellic Moore. Mrs. Leonard Brown was the accompanist. The program was the most interesting of the season and Mrs. Gilmore sang several numbers that were very pleasing. The cast of characters in "As Ye Sow" included: Marjorie Chapman, Winifred Sanborn, Louise MacIntyre, Evelyn Dillen, Mollie Kester, Harriet Quinn, Evelyn Waterhouse, Doris Lefebvre, Alice Lybrand, Madeline Davis, Dorothy Wilson and Barbara Hensel. The cast in "Everyday Gold" consisted of Ruth Quinn, Gladys Wilson, Marion Dillon, Bernice Ordway, Harold Logan, Wilfred Paine, Lester Gibson, Norman Hanson and Courtland Burdeshaw. Home-made candies and Halloween novelties were sold. These in charge of the candy and decorations were Ethel Parr, Mable Skene, Elizabeth Lamont, Mary Lement and Grace Skene. Miss Ma Ferguson impersonated a witch and sold tickets.

USED PANTALOONS FOR TOW LINE

Two ordinary pairs of trousers tied together saved adequately as a tow line when a Buick seven-passenger car was driven through Lowell streets yesterday afternoon, on its way to a garage. The car, during the pulling was driven by J. W. Fraser, proprietor of a furniture store at the corner of Middlesex and Graham streets.

Mr. Fraser has been trying to find a way to save the trousers, but up to date hasn't succeeded. The cloth tow line proved entirely adequate yesterday, but as a pair of trousers is a valuable article, a pair of these wonders in one of his store windows, where it can now be seen.

MASS MEETING AT AUDITORIUM

The mass meeting for the Greek-speaking residents of this city under the auspices of the Near East relief committee will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Memorial Auditorium and it is expected the audience will be large. The meeting will be held for the purpose of raising funds for the relief of the refugees of Asia Minor. There will be speakers from Boston and this city and the meeting will be presided over by Samuel H. Thompson of this city, a member of the national committee.

SITE FOR FIREHOUSE IN OAKLANDS

The Spalding lot in Oakland square, at the junction of Rogers and Fairmount streets, meets with the approval of a majority of the members of the public safety committee of the city council as a site for a new firehouse in that district. It can be acquired for approximately $2500. It is believed the committee will file this report as a recommendation at the next regular council meeting.

The committee, with Councilor Fred A. Sadler as chairman, made a tour of the Oakland and Belvidere sections yesterday afternoon and after viewing a number of suggested sites, agreed the one above mentioned has more to recommend it than any other.

This is the site suggested by the Oakland Improvement association at the hearing held at city hall last Monday night.

OPENING TUESDAY OF MOLLER'S MODERN FOUR-STORY FURNITURE STORE IN MIDDLE STREET

GEORGE A. KING

S. W. PRUSSIAN

Massive Building is Filled With Beautiful House Furnishings and Will Be Open for Inspection and Reception of Guests—Juvenile Department Filled With Children's Furniture a Novel Feature—Concert Musicians Will Give Elaborate Program on Opening Day

Lowell's newest and largest furniture house—Moller's, Inc.—will open its doors to the public inspection and future patronage next Tuesday morning, Oct. 31.

This addition to the city's prosperous mercantile interests is backed by one of the most successful furniture selling corporations in the country with a record of many years of splendid developments. From small quarters in large areas for the showing of all that is new, modern and desirable in the line of complete house furnishings is a record worthy of mention because of the energy displayed by the enterprising executives of the concern, who, by the way, have implicit faith in the future business prosperity of Lowell.

The new furniture house that graces Middle street close to the sweep of busy Central street has wonderfully changed the appearance of that bustling thoroughfare that contains so many important business concerns today. The Moller building, of great beauty and actually imposing as one stands at the Central street corner and looks to the spot where the structure has been erected and is now ready for formal opening next Tuesday, occupies the spot where the new, Harrisonia hotel was to have been constructed.

The architectural work in the new building area is most imposing. All of the handsome limestone used in the construction plans was imported from Italy. The new store, four stories in height and of generous width, is one of the very best lighted structures in New England. The daylight is there in full measure, the immense windows giving ample allowance for all the natural light there is. The artificial lighting system is complete, the direct lights being used and the huge globes being of the latest pattern.

Interior is Very Inviting

The interior of the building is unusually inviting. There is an impression of great cleanliness, with the spotless white varnished paint used lavishly on walls, and artistic carpenter work in all the novel finishes and arrangements called for by the designers. The massive columns that support the floors are also dressed in clear white. The business office in the rear is finished in light gray.

The variety of new furniture of every description, the display of modern lamps, "grandfather" clocks, the most remarkable ware and beauty, the presentations in popular Queen Anne style furniture for home and other places where men and women gather daily for business purposes or recreation, the club furniture and decorations, the notable offerings for pastime halls and other gathering places will entice the eager visitors.

Practically the same decorative scheme is carried out on the upper floors of the building as is found on the first floor. An unusual feature of the Moller, Inc., concern's new place of business, now nearly ready for the opening, are ten enormous display "house rooms" in the front of the building, with show windows from the street. Each room may be enclosed, and furniture displayed as if in a house living room. In addition to the ten novel display rooms, made to order, there is a specially built juvenile room in the rear of the first floor, which has been finished in beautiful colors and designs familiar to childish hearts. This room has special furniture "to fit the children," and there will be showings here from time to time of different things in lines that go to furnish in detail children's nursery and playrooms.

All window displays can be inspected equally as well from the store interior as from the street sidewalks. On the second floor will be displayed living room furniture. On the third will be the chamber and dining room furnishings in great variety, and the top floor will be given over to rugs, chairs, beds, and odd pieces. The basement will contain ranges, kitchen cabinets, beds, oil stoves, heaters and miscellaneous household articles of popular usage.

Splendid Elevator Service

A passenger elevator connects all floors of the building, and there is a freight elevator service, all provided with the latest safety appliances. On the second floor is a ladies rest room, well furnished and providing a cosy place where shoppers may go and rest while on tour of the city. Other arrangements are made for the entertainment of women of the city, as well as the Moller concern desiring to extend every courtesy to all comers, whether they come to purchase supplies or simply to look over the great Moller collection of household goods.

There are two entrances to the great building on Middle street and one from the rear. There will be free delivery of household goods to all sections of Lowell and the immediate vicinity. Customers will find stocks of all grades to meet their purses, and the motto will be: "Cash. If you have it; credit, if you want it." The concern guarantees its prices to be as low, if not lower, than those of any other similar concern in New England.

The Moller store in Cambridge has been well known for years, coming into the possession of this well known concern some eight years ago. S. W. Prussian is president and treasurer of Moller's, Inc., and it is his success in life is based on the principle of "service." When asked to explain the secret of his success in Cambridge and elsewhere, Mr. Prussian referred the interviewer to his very efficient store department managers, who were glad to explain why the "Moller system" has worked out so well.

The employees credit Mr. Prussian with being both friendly and charitable in his dealings with those who come to his stores. He has made a success of his commercial life by keeping in touch with those who fall in life's struggle. Witness his great charitable work in and about Boston, showing the business man, perhaps, at his best, while chronicling his human endeavors. He annually gives free dinners to inmates at the state prison in Charlestown and at the Charles street jail, Boston, and provides frequent entertainments, also.

He has long aided extensive charitable work in Cambridge, where his other store is flourishing and has a host of customers and loyal friends.

Lowell Man Manager

Although Mr. Prussian is the head of the Moller concern, the local management of the Lowell store will be in the hands of George A. King, a popular young business man of Lowell, who began his commercial career with the A. G. Pollard Co. 20 years ago, developing until he was promoted to the position of assistant buyer. He continued in this position until he received his present position with the Moller concern.

filling a similar position with that concern until their reorganization last winter. He received an offer from Moller's, Inc., last April and went to Cambridge headquarters. Naturally his Lowell friends are gratified to see Mr. King transferred to this city, his home town.

Other Lowell people will be employed in Moller's when the doors are formally thrown open next Tuesday. There will be Michael E. Gookin, well known in this city and vicinity; Victor G. Hill, for many years in the phonograph trade and F. L. Plant, a well known Lowell salesman, who will be in charge of important departments. Lowell men will make up the sales personnel, with French and Greek speaking salesman to accommodate people who speak those languages. With the office force will be Lowell people solely, Miss Lavin and Miss Wynn, both Lowell girls, being employed there.

An excellent choice in the selection of a general manager and buyer for Moller's, Inc., is Henry L. Mahan, an experienced furniture man, with many years of long experience behind him. The store will open Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock and remain open until 9 o'clock in the evening. Souvenirs will be distributed and will be worth going to obtain. An orchestra will play interesting selections during the day and evening. After the formal opening day, the Moller store will keep the same business hours as other large stores.

The corporation has issued many thousands attractive invitations asking Lowell people to attend the formal opening, but if any failed to secure formal cards, they are invited to come to the store on Middle street anyway and inspect the new building and its multitude of wonderful offerings.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

Twice the Laughs! Twice the Fun!* ONLY IN SUNDAY ADVERTISER

FROM TOP TO TOE IN MILADY'S MODES

Hat Aims to Please

The sterling virtues of economy, practicality and durability were not emphasized in this hat, or could it be induced to take a decided stand on the large or small issue. It merely aimed to be becoming. Black lace, feathers and black satin, helped it achieve its end.

Practical and Pretty

The cloth coat and the practical suit come in a number of attractive forms this season. They are embellished with fur, the long or short-haired variety being equally good, and frequently embroidery in conventional patterns livens up dark, winter fabrics.

Both Styles Popular

The 1922 model fur coat may be long or short, but it must be smart. Black caracul and kolinsky make the long one and moleskin and fox the short one pictured here. For early winter, the jacket with the hip band is most popular, but the longer model will have its inning later.

Fascinating Negligee

The coat of lace embellished with satin ribbons and rosebuds worn over a slip of pink satin or georgette is probably the most feminine and alluring of all garments. Incidentally, it's the sort of a garment nearly any woman can fashion for herself.

Graceful

The most effective negligee is often the simplest, as in the case of this softly draped model of supple blue satin.

New System of Fat Reduction

Here's a new way for all fat people to laugh together at that old bugaboo—obesity. The saying that "there is nothing new under the sun" does not now apply to fat people any more. Here is something new for them—a new sensation, a new pleasure, a new and graceful figure, easily found by anyone who is passing beyond the limits of allness. Everyone has heard of the Marmola Prescription; that harmless combination of fat-defying elements perfected by one of the foremost physicians. Now, from the same high authority, there comes another idea—the idea of condensing these same pure, harmless ingredients into a pleasant little tablet. Taken after eating and at bedtime, they help the stomach to dispose of all the fatty foods, converting them into compact, solid flesh, muscle and energy, without jelling or exercising. Marmola Prescription Tablets regulate the entire system—do for you what bodily exertion and self-denial can not do, and the fat, once routed, is gone for good. You can prove all this at a trifling cost. Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists or sent postpaid by the Marmola company, 4612 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Mich. A case sufficient to bring results—it but one dollar.—Adv.

Paisley

Figured silks are very popular now, particularly when they are combined with a plain fabric of harmonizing tone.

BROADCLOTH, ERMINE

White broadcloth and ermine are combined in a very charming coat dress. Wide cuffs and the long narrow collar which reaches to the waistline are of the fur. The gown is on straight easy lines and is worn with a stunning turban of draped black velvet and silver.

Ladies Let Cuticura Keep Your Skin Fresh and Young
Keep Cuticura in the house for all skin troubles. It is the only skin medicine that is safe and sure. It is the only skin medicine that is safe and sure. It is the only skin medicine that is safe and sure.

Sure Way to Charm

If you want to be picturesque—and what woman doesn't—the quickest way to achieve your purpose is to buy a picture hat of black velvet, hung with Spanish lace that falls below the shoulder line on the left side. You simply can't help being irresistible.

What Paris Sends Us

Unless shorter dresses become the vogue, fancy stockings would seem to be a drag on the market—but they aren't. They are more popular than ever before and are frequently embroidered in gay colors. Fancy slippers, too, of brocade and light suede leather are most stylish.

Lines of Loveliness

Draperies are apt to play an important part in the dinner frock, and street frock as well. As sleeves on fancy gowns become more elaborate and flowing, those on street frocks become longer and plainer. But the waistline cannot be induced to leave the hips for any occasion.

For Evening

Sapphire blue velvet with a lining of silver cloth and elaborate sleeves and a novel collar tell the news of this lovely evening coat.

Distinctive

This frock of crepe would be plain if it were not so distinctively draped. As it is, it is one of the season's smartest models.

CHANGE OF LIFE WOMAN'S TRIAL

Proof That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is of Great Help at This Period

Metropolis, Illinois.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it is all it claims to be and has benefited me wonderfully. I had been sick for eight months with a trouble which confined me to my bed and was only able to be up part of the time when I was advised by a friend, Mrs. Smith, to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. I was so much benefited by the use of these medicines that I was able to be up and about in two weeks. I was at the Change of Life when I began taking the medicines and I passed over that time without any trouble. Now I am hale and hearty, do all my housework, washing, ironing, scrubbing and cooking, all there is to do about a house, and can walk two or three miles without getting too tired. I know of several of my neighbors who have been helped by your medicines."—Mrs. EMMA CUNYER, 705 E. 7th St., Metropolis, Illinois.

SERIES OF IMPORTANT GRIDIRON BATTLES ON TODAY'S CARD

BIG COLLEGE GAMES TODAY

Football Followers Anticipate Series of Brilliant Gridiron Battles

Harvard Meets Dartmouth—Yale Plays Army—Syracuse vs. Penn. State

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Football followers anticipated a series of brilliant gridiron performances today with numerous contests of major importance scheduled in the east, west and south.

Four games monopolizing the spotlight in the east are those between Harvard and Dartmouth, at Cambridge, Mass., and Syracuse and Penn. State at Ithaca, N. Y., and Yale and Army at New Haven, Conn., and Navy and University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.

Two interesting contests of exceptional interest are scheduled, Princeton seeking to avenge a 5 to 0 defeat at the hands of the University of Chicago last year, playing the Maroon on the latter's own grounds, while Notre Dame invaded Atlanta, to battle Georgia Tech.

Three important western conference contests will bring together Michigan and Illinois, Minnesota and Ohio State, and Purdue and Iowa, in a four-team series in the east, other leading attractions include Lafayette-Boston College, Bucknell-Pittsburgh, Rutgers-West Virginia, and Cornell-Vermont, and Williams and Brown-Boston University contests.

The south's schedule is featured by a battle between Georgia Tech and North Carolina state and Virginia Military Institute, Alabama and Texas, Mississippi and Tennessee, and Sewanee and Kentucky.

In the far west, the leading games are those between California and South Southern California universities, and Idaho and Oregon.

Game on Polo Grounds

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The football teams of Penn. State college and Syracuse university met at the Polo Grounds this afternoon in the first of a local series of contests featuring one of the best players in the country, Earl Fudge, who is expected to lead the Syracuse team to victory.

The game was a close one, with the Syracuse team leading for most of the afternoon, but the Penn. State team, under the leadership of Coach H. A. Hunsicker, fought back and won the game by a score of 14 to 10.

Overlin Wins Amherst

AMHERST, Oct. 28.—Overlin and Amherst football players were ready for their intercollegiate contest to be played here this afternoon. Overlin, who was defeated by Amherst last year, was expected to lead the Amherst team to victory.

The game was a close one, with the Amherst team leading for most of the afternoon, but the Overlin team, under the leadership of Coach H. A. Hunsicker, fought back and won the game by a score of 14 to 10.

Chicago Meets Tiers

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Chicago today temporarily closed its doors to the world's greatest grain market, the nation's premier rail center and the home of the Chicago Cubs, to host the football game between the Chicago team and the Tiers team.

The game was a close one, with the Chicago team leading for most of the afternoon, but the Tiers team, under the leadership of Coach H. A. Hunsicker, fought back and won the game by a score of 14 to 10.

Chicago, Virtually an Unknown Quantity

BILLY MURPHY TO BOX

Acre Boy to Make First Local Appearance of Season on Thursday Night

An announcement of great importance to local boxing fans came from the Moody club office this morning, when it was declared that Billy Murphy of the Acre had agreed to terms to box Billy Blake, featherweight champion of Nova Scotia, in the main event of ten rounds on next Thursday night.

Murphy has not boxed in Lowell for some time, but has been enjoying considerable success in bouts at Boston, where he is in the main event of the local boxing scene.

The Murphy-BBlake bout will be preceded by a local boxing scene, featuring a preliminary of six rounds, between Gunboat Jack, who recently defeated Whitey Walsh here, and Spike Henderson, who fought George Martin in the main event of the local boxing scene.

LOWELL BOYS STARRING ON COLLEGE GRIDIRONS

Two well known local boys who are starring on distant college gridirons this year are Arthur Lynch and Gregory McAdams, both of whom are expected to lead their teams to victory.

Lynch is a member of the Harvard team, while McAdams is a member of the Princeton team.

Both boys are expected to lead their teams to victory, and are considered among the best players in the country.

BLUENOSE VICTORY IS UPHELD BY COMMITTEE

GLOUCESTER, Oct. 28.—As an aftermath of the international fishermen's race series, two things were settled yesterday afternoon.

The first was that the Gloucester team, under the leadership of Coach H. A. Hunsicker, had won the race by a score of 14 to 10.

The second was that the Gloucester team, under the leadership of Coach H. A. Hunsicker, had won the race by a score of 14 to 10.

Academy's Fighting Football Team

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 28.—The Academy's fighting football team faced the University of Pennsylvania today in a football game at New Haven, Conn.

The game was a close one, with the Academy team leading for most of the afternoon, but the University of Pennsylvania team, under the leadership of Coach H. A. Hunsicker, fought back and won the game by a score of 14 to 10.

Family Boasts Three Golf Champs, Father, Mother and Son

Does one inherit ability as a proffer? That such is a possibility, and in one case an actual fact, is pointed out by those who have watched the career of John Felix, 10-year-old golf champion in the juvenile class at Toledo, Kas.

The youngster comes by his golfing ability honestly. His father for several years was state champion of Kansas, his mother is now women champion of Toledo, Kas.

In winning his juvenile title the youngster just and his father and mother are now women champion of Toledo, Kas.

CHAMPIONSHIP BOUTS

Two Definitely Scheduled and Others Being Negotiated for New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Championship bouts are gaining prominence on Gotham's battle calendar for the near future. Two are definitely scheduled and others are being negotiated.

Jack Britton, welterweight king, will risk his title in the first of these bouts next Wednesday night at Madison Square Garden, when he boxes Mickey Walker of Newark, N. J., Pancho Villa, the Filipino pugilist, who defeated Johnny Buff as American lightweight champion, will engage Al Goldstein, New York welterweight champion, in a 12-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

Negotiations are said to be under way for a return bout between Harry Greb, 140 lb. heavyweight champion, and Gene Tunney, who lost the title to Greb some time ago.

Joe Lynch, heavyweight monarch, was to have fought in another 15-round bout but plans for such a contest were temporarily upset when the New York athletic commission ruled that Lynch, because of his alleged showing in a recent bout, could not appear in the garden ring until he had satisfied the commission's satisfaction that he had been properly conditioned.

Tom Gibbons, St. Louis light heavyweight, has been challenged by Jack Dempsey, who is expected to fight in a 12-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

BILLY EVANS' VIEWS ON BOXING AND BOXERS

Ten years ago the east was supreme in football. How things have changed. Now the west is the dominant power.

The 6 to 0 triumph of Yale by the Harvard team last year, caused much more than a change in the spot world. As a matter of fact many of the experts predicted it, the east, the Yale team, was the supreme on the gridiron. Not so many years ago when a football authority would pick an All-American team, he would pick a team from the east.

Harvard and Princeton, to put a western player on the eleven would have been regarded in the light of a huge joke.

How things have changed. The so-called "big three" is a thing of the past. In the past, the Yale team was the supreme in football. Now the west is the dominant power.

The forward pass is really a development of the last few years. At least, it is a development of the last few years.

SCOUT HAS LEADING ROLE

Most Necessary to Winning Eleven

BY "BO" MONTAGNA
All American Quarterback
The scout has come to play a very important part in modern football.

Ten years ago a team without a coach was just about as helpless as the present-day team would be without a scout.

It used to be that when a scout was sent out to see a rival team play his main thought was to get the signals of the opposition.

Today it has developed into a much finer art to properly scout a team, the scout today has to take many things into consideration aside from the matter of mere signals.

As I said in one of my former articles, football is still in the experimental stage. Because of this fact, the scout today is employing different methods of attack each year. They are trying to develop a new style of play, one that will be distinctly their own, and with which they will be able to surprise something new on their opponents.

Small Colleges Dangerous

This system has been of great advantage to the smaller colleges. Using it, they have demonstrated conclusively that the team depending upon its own strength and courage can easily be defeated by a fast-moving eleven.

Scouts are sent out each season to note the developments and not only to learn the method of attack and defense of the other team but to get new ideas of their own.

Before I scouted the Harvard game in 1920 I was totally ignorant of the Harvard system. I was surprised to see their quarterback taking the ball from under the center. Nearly all the teams in our section of the country, the south, used to direct the ball to the man carrying the ball. I saw them use only straight plays, but these were highly developed; that is, every available man interfered for the man with the ball.

Duty of Football Scout

Seldom is a football scout able to get much of a line on any of the deceptive features of a team's offense. Such plays are rarely uncovered in the actual games.

The scout, however, by watching a few games, is able to get a good line on the general style of play. He is able to get a line on the general style of play. He is able to get a line on the general style of play.

The Tigers Lack Triple Threat

In modern football it is an accepted thing that a team can be successful unless it has a triple threat.

The Princeton team of this year seems lacking in that respect. That is one reason why the Princeton team is not as successful as it should be.

Lafayette Has a Crack Team

Last season Lafayette was regarded as having one of the best football teams in the country. This year's aggregation seems to be an even better one.

Lafayette showed its worth in the game with Pittsburgh, which was won by a score of 27 to 0. It followed this victory with a win over Muhlenberg College, 62 to 0.

Lafayette has a crack team.

Ponies to Meet Sharf's Nobles

The Ponies and Sharf's Nobles will meet Sunday afternoon on the North Common at 2.30 in what promises to be one of the best games seen in Lowell for some time. As the Cadets are not playing and this game is in the heart of the city, a large crowd is expected.

The following Pony players are asked to report at the North Common not later than 1.30: McMahon, C. Shuman, Gamble, Bradbury, McMahon, Kane, Dooley, J. McMahon, H. Sugart, Dale H. McMahon, John Whittier, Livingston and Leo Heathcock.

BAZAAR WILL FEATURE ROTARY CLUB BALL

One of the interesting features of the coming Charity ball which is to be held by the Rotary club in Memorial Auditorium on Nov. 17 will be the bazaar. This is in charge of a committee headed by Alvin Weaver and his assistants are Clarence Wood, Marion J. Cole, Fred Jones, "Neve" Goodell, "Uncle" Dudley L. Pugs and Royal U. White. This committee is busy at work arranging for the sale of candy, flowers and other articles. The bazaar will be held in special booths and will be held at several booths as well as by a corps of young ladies who have volunteered for this service. It will be arranged so that you can leave your order at the booth during the charity ball and have flowers sent to anyone anywhere on the following day. Flowers for wear during the party will of course be ready on the spot.

CARGO OF 1200 CASES OF WHISKEY SEIZED

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The Dodge, a 60-foot motor launch, whose skipper declared she was not a rum-runner, but just a "good Samaritan" of the sea, was towed into port this morning by the rum-chaser Hansen and her cargo of 1200 cases of whiskey confiscated.

TRILLIONS OF RUBLES IN CIRCULATION

MOSCOW, Oct. 28.—Millions and billions upon little nowadays in reckoning the affairs of the Russian people are now reckoned in trillions of rubles. According to a report to the workers' and peasants' parliament, he estimated that the total ruble in circulation today is 1,152,000,000,000,000.

FOUND DYING IN STREET
BOSTON, Oct. 28.—A body believed to be that of George Harvey of Toronto, who served with the First Canadian division, was found today for positive identification in a very bad condition. The man was picked up in the streets a few days ago, and died in a hospital.

HAGEN AND KIRKWOOD GO WEST
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Walter Hagen, American holder of the British open golf title, and Joe Kirkwood, his Australian touring partner, are on their way west today to launch a winter exhibition trip that will carry them to the Pacific coast and later to the south. Their first scheduled stop is Kansas City, Mo.

Marty Dupree in French Follies

MARTY DUPREE

"The French Follies of 1922," with Marty Dupree and a bevy of beautiful girls as the principal entertainers, is the attraction for the Opera House beginning next Monday afternoon and continuing for the entire week. Manager William Schaeke has made arrangements to handle a record crowd.

For the present indications predict that the show will be even more successful than those of "Oh-U-Baby" and "Oh Thelma," recent entertainers, which drew such immense crowds in the recent engagements.

Marty Dupree's entertainers will have more than the usual interest for Lowell people because of the fact that one of the leading Irish song and dances is Miss Alice Bagley, one of Lowell's favorite singers. Miss Bagley has not been heard here for years and her appearance will again be a treat for those who are acquainted with her. Others in the line of the Irish are Bennie Drohan, Frank Smith and Cliff Blanchard, all recognized among the leading artists in musical comedy circles, who have a line of entertainment which will be highly pleasing.

In addition to the entertainers just mentioned the show will have a large company of beautifully costumed girls who will go through a lengthy variety program full of pep and fun. It is heralded as a clean, wholesome show and one that will leave many pleasant memories. For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the company of people will have a complete show and for Thursday, Friday and Saturday there will be another change of program.

In addition to Marty Dupree's entertainers for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Manager Schaeke has booked Thelma, a recent entertainer, who is widely known for her extraordinary powers and sixth sense vision. This girl is able to answer all the questions you ask her and has solved many problems for those in trouble.

Tickets are on sale for the week's performance and may be procured by calling phone 281.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
"The Prisoner of Zenda," Noted Classic to Open the Engagement Tomorrow

For the first time before it closes for an indefinite period during its engagement and remodeling, the Merrimack Square Theatre has arranged an extraordinary picture which is packed full of action, intrigue and devilish plotting is matched against heroic endeavor and ultimate victory for the loyal adherents of the ruler of the Kingdom of Ruritania. The settings are magnificent. The coronation, the procession, the royal ball are massive, beautiful and impressive. It is a sword play, intrigue, danger, plots, beauty, action and charm.

Louis Stone as the Englishman, who by the vagaries of fate was called upon for a time to impersonate the king, gives a flawless performance in the dual role. Alice Terry, beautiful as a lady, regal in appearance and action, moves charmingly through the love interest of the picture to the ultimate coronation of the ruler of Ruritania.

Colonel Sapt gives a splendid performance of a character which has infinite appeal. Others who make these well known characters come to life with faithful reality are Stuart Holmes as Duke Michael, Francis Savary as Rupert of Ruritania, Barbara La Marr as Antoinette de Mauban, Malcolm McGregor as Count Von Hattenheim, Edward Connelley as Strophil von Strakenitz.

The photography, which is a natural excellence, is by John P. Selz. Edward Ross dramatized the story.

The usual excellent surrounding program will be presented with "The Prisoner of Zenda," with the International News, a comedy and the Literary Digest among the attractions.

There will be no surcharge in admission prices for this big program.

For Thursday, Friday and Saturday the features will be "The Girl Who Ran Wild," a screen adaptation of the famous novel of the same name.

The Merrimack Square Theatre will be closed after the evening performance of Sunday, Nov. 5, for a brief period for alterations. When it re-opens it will be one of the finest and one of the most beautiful theatres in New England. And what is more—the same high quality of photoplays that has made it what it is today will continue to be shown.

THE STRAND
My Friend the Devil and The Girl Who Ran Wild! Early Week Attractions at the Strand

A combination of special features that contribute to a properly balanced photoplay offering is what Manager Torgan has in present at the Strand for the coming week. For the first three days, starting on Monday, another big Fox special, My Friend the Devil, will lead, and the other contribution will be Gladys Walton in "The Girl Who Ran Wild." Both are the kind of picture stories that take as well as amuse and entertain. The usual comedy and weekly features will also be shown, while the musical numbers will add to a program of 2½ hours of solid enjoyment. For the last three days of the week, "More to Be Fright Than Scared," with such favorites as Alice Lake, Rosemary Dwyer and others are seen. Most likable "The Galloping Kid" will be the runner-up. You sure can't beat these programs.

A word about the Sunday programs. Manager Torgan has made every endeavor to raise the standard of his Sunday offerings to a point that will satisfy the most exacting and up to date he has been most successful. What he has to offer for the coming Sunday should please more than ever. An entire change of pictures to one of the pleasing features.

William Fox has already given a host of fine pictures to the great motion picture public and his special for this year are unquestionably leaders in their special line. His "Monte Cristo" and "The Galloping Kid" are standard of entertainment that his special produce. Now comes "My Friend the Devil," a strong, vital, dramatic story, a story that grips the heart of modern life and here to lead us on, through its example to the end of the world.

In the story of a great criminal, who is a great believer—a man who thinks that science is greater than God; the story of an unfaithful wife with the unfaithfulness at the time his daughter is to be married. Here we find "The House a strenuous even though short, winter session. The race, which is the symbol of authority of the sergeant-at-arms, has gone through a thorough course of repairs. The sacredness of the race has never been questioned or underestimated, when the house grows turbulent, as is often the case.

When the speaker cannot quell a disturbance, by loud demands for order and the sharp raps of the gavel, he calls on the sergeant-at-arms to "enforce the rules of the house." Then that official seizes the ball race from its stand at the right hand of the speaker's desk, rushes down the aisle and commands combatants to come to order in the name of the congress of the United States. And never yet in the history of the congress have members failed to respond, no matter in what state of high excitement or beligerency they might have been. This race is a thick ebony rod surmounted by a silver globe representing the earth, on top of which is a silver eagle. The race is held of such value as the symbol of congressional authority, that whenever repairs are required, they are done by experts in the presence of an official guard. In that way it is protected from the chances taken by relic hunters. I remember on one occasional, the hot-headed Tom Heflin of Alabama, now senator, but at that time member of the house, got into a controversy with a republican colleague, and jumping over the desk that intervened, rushed at his opponent with intent to "lay him out" then and there. But Tom stumbled and fell flat in the aisle, rolling over and over down the gentle incline, and before he could regain his feet, the sergeant-at-arms stood over him, holding the race and demanding in loud tones and with much formality of utterance that the prostrate southerner "rise and keep order," which Mr. Heflin reluctantly did, and peace was quickly restored, though excitement ran high on floor and gallery.

Jack Daw's Adventures (No. 95)

The officer knew that Jack was not an ordinary street urchin, so he took him off to one side and questioned him. Jack told him the complete story of his treasure hunt and of his many thrilling experiences.

The officer took a liking to Jack and gave him permission to continue digging for the hidden treasure. "I've told the people about here, no to annoy you," he told Jack. "I sincerely hope you will find the treasure."

Jack then jumped in the hole and started to dig again. Shortly all of the men and boys who had been watching him disappeared. This surprised Jack. He finds out why they left in the next chapter. Continued.

PUFF SLEEVES
Shoulder puffs are seen on many of the new sleeves. Sometimes the puff constitutes the entire effort at a sleeve, but in other cases there is a long tight sleeve below which reaches far over the wrist.

VICTORIAN STYLES
Quilted draperies with puffs over the hips and slashes that in the bows are reminiscent of the Victorian days. Bishop sleeves also are being revived.

Legal Notices

Commonwealth of Massachusetts—Middlesex, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of William Casey, late of said county, deceased.
Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, and the same has been admitted to probate, and the executor thereof named, without giving a surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Cambridge in said county of Middlesex, on the sixteenth day of November, A. D. 1922, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted.
And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Lowell Sun, a newspaper published in Lowell, the last publication to be on the day of the said Court, and by mailing, post-paid, or otherwise, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days before said Court.
Witness, George F. Lawton, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this twenty-fourth day of October, in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two.

NEXT WEEK HAS BIG EVENTS OF CAMPAIGN FOR LOWELL

Gaston and Fitzgerald Making a Great Fight—James C. Reilly Daily Gaining Strength in District Attorney Contest—Representative and Senatorial Contests—Silent Vote Will Probably Decide Plan B Contest

It is not overstating the fact to say that more or less consideration has been caused in the republican camp by the announcement that Hon. Joseph Walker has come out openly for the election of Col. William A. Gaston, the democratic candidate for United States senator and the opponent of Senator Lodge. Mr. Walker, however, contradicts the report and states that he will vote for the prohibition candidate. He has proclaimed from the beginning that he would oppose the election of a Senator.

MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED IN ITALY; LATER RESCINDED

Withdrawal of Proclamation Result of Improvement in Situation—Fascisti in Concerted Movement Took Possession of Several Important Towns—King Returns to Rome

LONDON, Oct. 28 (By the Associated Press).—Martial law was proclaimed in Italy to take effect at noon today, but the proclamation later was rescinded. It is stated in dispatches from the Italian government in Rome, the semi-official Italian news organization. It explained that the withdrawal of the proclamation is the result of an improvement in the situation. Special despatches early this morning told of the beginning of a concerted movement by the Fascisti against several towns. Florence, Pisa, Cremona and other chief centres were declared to have been taken over by the Fascisti forces, who deposed the state authorities and assumed command. Apparently, according to these advices, there was no resistance. Communications in all parts of the country are badly disorganized and the news of the declaration of martial law is the first to reach here since the movement started.

"FORGET-ME-NOT" DAY

Flower of Remembrance

Will Carry Appeal of War-Wrecked Men

Enthusiasm grows in the ranks of various representative Lowell fraternal associations, charitable orders, social clubs and other popular circles of citizens in every local walk of life for the promotion of the success of "Forget-me-not Day," to be celebrated Nov. 1 in Lowell in the interests of the Disabled Veterans of the World war. It was announced today by Chairman John P. McCardle, who has charge of the war-remembered campaign and is now completing arrangements for the proper handling of all the details necessary to make the event a memorable one in the history of local charitable endeavors, that numerous contributions to this worthy cause have already been

"Wah, Who, Wah", Green's Football Battle Cry, Sounded in Stadium for First Time in a Decade

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 28.—The "Wah, Who, Wah" that is Dartmouth's football battle cry sounded in the stadium again today as an eleven from the New Hampshire hills battled Harvard for the first time in a decade.

Renewal of the old rivalry between the old rivals, whose last meeting in 1912 resulted in a 3 to 0 victory for the Crimson, found both teams primed to the mid-season best with the possible exception that Dartmouth lacked the services of "Chick" Burke, its halfback captain, who was expected to be on the side lines because of injuries. Harvard, little the worse as a result of its game with Centre last Saturday, prepared to put its strongest lineup on the field. Two thousand graduates from the Hanover college were a colorful spot in the crowd of 61,500 spectators. More than 20,000 seats had also been sold to Dartmouth alumni who came in special trains from Chicago, Cleveland and New York.

A glance at the statistics of the meeting between Crimson and Green showed that of 10 games in the stadium Dartmouth had won two, tied two and lost six, with a difference of only 10 points. In the totals, Dartmouth's greatest victory was the 22 to 0 score of 1907.

Harvard Wins Toss
The game started at 2:30 o'clock. Harvard won the toss and kicked off, defending the north goal.

An exchange of punts and a short gain through Dartmouth's left guard, carried the ball to Dartmouth's 28-yard line. After further punting, Mills was down on Dartmouth's 12-yard line. After short rushes and an incomplete forward pass, Capt. Buell's try for a field goal from the 25-yard line failed. Short Dartmouth rushes and a punt were followed by ineffectual Harvard attempts to pierce the Green line. A crimson forward pass and a Harvard return kick, led to more punting and short drives in which Dartmouth and Harvard each made slight gains. An attempted Dartmouth forward pass failed and Neidlinger's placement kick went wide of the goal post. The period ended with the score: Harvard, 0; Dartmouth, 0.

It was Dartmouth's ball on her 40-yard line when the first period ended.

SECOND PERIOD
Jenkins replaced Pitts for Harvard. After two short rushes and a punt, Owen was downed for a two yard loss on Harvard's 23-yard line. A punt and a short run back made it Dartmouth's ball on her 22 yard line. Seigfried was thrown for a loss of three yards by Holder when play was resumed.

Watkins replaced Lynch of Dartmouth, whose left knee was injured. On an exchange of punts, Dartmouth was penalized 10 yards for interfering with a catch and it was Harvard's ball on Dartmouth's 20-yard line. After slight Harvard rushing gains, Buell's attempted field goal failed. Dartmouth got the ball on her own 20-yard line. Harris kicked, Buell's forward pass was grounded and Gehrke punted. After another exchange of punts, Chapin gained two yards in a left end run to Harvard's 35-yard line. Harvard Scores Field Goal
Gehrke kicked outside on Dartmouth's 16-yard line. On Dartmouth's ball on Dartmouth's 20-yard line, a forward pass and a short rush carried it to the 10-yard line. Buell dropped back to

Score: Harvard 3, Dartmouth 0.
Kiernan replaced Clark at center for Harvard. After the kickoff and run back, Gehrke kicked outside on Dartmouth's 16 yard line. Dartmouth gained four yards in a rush. Then Harris kicked to Harvard's 15-yard line. Hobson replaced Greenough for Harvard.

Score and second period: Harvard 3; Dartmouth 0.
Gehrke punted and after Dartmouth rushed for slight gains, Calder, replacing Harris, kicked to Harvard's 2-yard line. Gehrke kicked and Mills ran it back 12 yards.

THIRD PERIOD
Harvard kicked off in third period to Dartmouth's 15-yard line. Mills running back to the 41-yard line. Lynch replaced Watkins and Harris replaced Calder for Dartmouth. Greenough replaced Hobson for Harvard.

An exchange of punts and short Dartmouth and Harvard rushes led to Harvard's first down on Dartmouth's 44-yard line. After short Harvard gains around the ends Buell's forward pass grounded. Gehrke punted outside. Gordon replaced Holder for Harvard. Leavitt gained six yards for Dartmouth and Harris kicked to Harvard's 12-yard line.

Time out was called for an injury to Kiernan. Gehrke and Harris exchanged punts. Owen's attempted placement punt from mid-field failed. Mills rushed to Dartmouth's 14-yard line and Harris kicked. Gehrke was knocked out when Buell was stopped on Dartmouth's 26-yard line.

Owen made three yards. Owen took Buell's forward pass and ran from the 30 yard line to the 12-yard line. For Buell's forward pass, Watkins replaced Dartmouth's 14-yard line. For Buell's forward pass, Watkins replaced Dartmouth's 14-yard line. For Buell's forward pass, Watkins replaced Dartmouth's 14-yard line.

Harris kicked from behind his own goal. Buell made a fair catch on Dartmouth's 32-yard line and Owen kicked a goal from placement.
Score: Harvard 6, Dartmouth 0.
Gehrke's kick was short. Leavitt made 21 yards in three rushes and the period ended with Dartmouth's ball on Harvard's 41-yard line.
Score and third period: Harvard 6, Dartmouth 0.

FOURTH PERIOD
Shortly after the fourth period got under way Neidlinger kicked a placement goal for Dartmouth, making the score Harvard 6, Dartmouth 3.

Gehrke's kick to Harris was run back 20 yards to Dartmouth's 30-yard line. Dartmouth's rushes were stopped and Harris kicked to Buell on Harvard's 30-yard line. Harvard failed to gain and Gehrke kicked. Mills and Harris gained a few yards for Dartmouth. Jenkins intercepted a Dartmouth forward pass and ran from Harvard's 15-yard line for a touchdown. Buell failed in the try for point by kick.

Score: Harvard 12, Dartmouth 3.
Carpenner replaced Taylor and Lee replaced Leavitt for Dartmouth. Cross replaced Jenkins for Harvard. Owen gained two yards and was hurt. A fake kick which failed to make the distance gave Dartmouth the ball on her 15-yard line. On a pass the ball rolled to the Green's three-yard line. Mills rushed it to the 25-yard line. Alder ran 20 yards for Dartmouth's first down on her 45-yard line.
After a short gain on rushes for Harvard, Gehrke kicked. Mills ran from his 45 yard line to Harvard's 43 yard line. Calder and Lee gained eight yards on rushes. Churchill replaced Gehrke and Hammond replaced Owen for Harvard.

Final score: Harvard 12, Dartmouth 3.
76,000 SPECTATORS AT YALE-ARMY GAME
YALE BOWL, New Haven, Conn., Oct. 28.—With ideal weather conditions, 76,000 spectators crowded the bowl this afternoon to witness the Army and Yale clash in their 22nd football encounter. The crowd was equal to the largest that ever witnessed a football game in New Haven.

At 2:30 the Yale team, led by Captain Jordan, came on the field amid the cheers of the Yale students. Then minutes later, the Army players entered the bowl amid the cheers of their supporters.

Army won the toss and chose to defend the north goal, with the wind at their backs. On the third scrimmage, Scott was injured and Mulroy, the regular fullback, who was out because of boils, was sent into replace Scott. Smythe opened the second period with a nine yard gain around Yale's left end. Neale punted for Yale. A Yale line play for holding in the Army line and the moment later put the ball on Army's 25-yard line.

There was a further exchange of punts. Smythe made a 15 yard run back of Neale's punt. Lawrence and Wood gained three yards each. The period ended with the ball in Army's possession on their own 45 yard line. Score: Yale 0, Army 0.
Mulligan kicked off for Army at the opening of the third period, Jordan carrying the ball back 25 yards. Don Stork was at Army's left end in place of Myers.

A forward pass, Neale to Mulloy, netted Yale 23 yards, putting the ball on Army's four yard line.
Miller replaced Miller in the Yale line at the start of the fourth period. Wood kicked the goal, a placement kick. Score: Yale 7, Army 0.
Final score: Army 7, Yale 7.

MAYOR BROWN ASKS FOR REDUCTION IN THE PRICE OF GAS

Request Based on Figures Secured From Other Cities—Election Commissioners Receive Applications for Absentee Ballots—Other City Hall News

Mayor George H. Brown today asked the Lowell Gas company for a reduction in the price of gas for domestic use in the city of at least 20 cents per 1000 feet. His request was made in letter form, and was addressed to the board of directors of the company.
In asking consideration of such a reduction, the mayor bases his request upon figures secured by him, covering the cost of gas in many of the larger cities of the country, which show that in nearly 10 such cities a much cheaper rate than the local one is in effect. At present Lowell consumers are paying $1.10 per thousand for the first 1000 feet, which, he declares, is 65 cents higher than the rate in 1916. The mayor also has figures which say that in 30 cities comparable in size to Lowell, the rate for the first 1000 feet is between 75 and $1.10.
The mayor believes he is justified

FIRE CHIEF SAUNDERS INVESTIGATES CAUSE OF EARLY MORNING FIRE IN SCHOOL STREET

Chief Saunders of the fire department is investigating the origin of the fire which caused damage to the extent of several thousand dollars to the building numbered 712 School street early this morning.

The fire was discovered at about 1:30 o'clock by Dr. Boyle, who was passing by in his automobile, and the alarm from box 51 was sounded. Soon when the firemen reached the premises flames were shooting through the roof. Several lines of hose were laid and the fire, which was threatening neighboring houses, was fought from all angles. While the firemen were coping with the flames someone sent in another alarm from box 5, which resulted in more apparatus being called to the scene. It was only after a couple of hours of real work that the firefighters succeeded in putting the fire under control.

Chief Saunders stated this morning that as far as he has been able to find out the fire started in the rear of the store on the street floor of the building, which is used as a storehouse, and the flames soon worked their way to the roof via the partitions. The upper portion of the house is unoccupied, and this, coupled with the fact that there was no one in the store at the time of the fire, makes the blaze more mysterious. The rear end of the building damaged, while the stock of groceries in the store and storehouse was badly gutted by water.

Another Early Morning Fire
Shortly before the firemen were called to School street, at 1:16 o'clock, an alarm was sounded from box 134 for a lively blaze in the cellar of the tenement block at the corner of Hale and Chelmsford streets. As soon as the firemen reached the premises some of them rushed through the building and gave the alarm. The tenants all rushed to the street and, according to the firemen, there was no commotion. In the meantime, several lines of hose were laid through the windows of the cellar while several of the men in uniform rushed down the stairs and succeeded in checking the blaze before it worked its way through the partitions.

ABINGTON MAN CHASED UP TREE BY DEER
ABINGTON, Oct. 28.—When Merton P. Evans, of this town, was proceeding through the woods off Bedford street near the Brockton line on his way to work this morning, he met two deer, a doe and a buck. The doe fled into the woods when Evans approached. The buck charged at Evans. The buck pressed Evans so closely he was forced to climb into a tree to save himself. The buck charged at the tree several times then stood guard holding Evans up the tree for three-quarters of an hour and looped off into the woods. A posse of citizens when Evans reported his experience, went to the scene and trailed the deer by their tracks, but did not come up with the animals.

RHEUMATISM

"FRUIT-A-TIVES." The Famous Fruit Medicine Proves It

CANASTOTA, New York. "I feel it my duty to write to thank you for the wonderful benefit I have received from 'Fruit-a-tives.' I suffered for 20 years with rheumatism. I had taken a number of different remedies, but they did not do me any good."

One day last fall, I saw your advertisement in our paper, so I bought a 25c trial box. They helped me, so I bought two more boxes and I can hardly realize that I ever had Rheumatism. I can get in and out of my bed without the least trouble. If the Rheumatism ever does come back, I know just what to take to drive it away.

SAW MRS. PHILLIPS SLAY MRS. MEADOWS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—Prosecution and defense were busy today with preparations for the resumption Monday of the trial of Mrs. Clara Phillips for the murder of Mrs. Alberta Tremaine Meadows, young widow, who was beaten to death with a hammer.

No session was held today. Yesterday Mrs. Peggy Caffee, former chorus girl and prize-winning actress for the state, gave the jury the version of a reputed eye-witness to the slaying.

After declaring that she had seen Mrs. Phillips strike Mrs. Meadows repeatedly with a hammer and had seen the defendant, jumping over the unconscious form of the young widow, Mrs. Caffee gave her version of her alleged trip back into the city from the outlying district.

After reaching town the witness left Mrs. Phillips who, she said, had threatened several times on the trip to kill her if she told what had happened.

ESCAPED BEING CRUSHED TO DEATH BY INCHES

BOSTON, Oct. 28.—A lucky turn of fate today saved Edward Lewis from being crushed by a half ton iron girder that slipped from its sling as it was being hoisted over the eleventh floor of a building under construction on Milk street and on the pavement.

Lewis was sitting in the front seat of an automobile and one end of the girder wrecked the engine of the machine. Lewis was showered with glass from the broken windshield, but escaped injury. The other end of the girder demonstrated the sturdiness of an automobile standing in front of Lewis' machine.

PLAYS BY GIRLS' FRIENDLY SOCIETY

Two plays were presented by the Girls' Friendly society of St. John's church, last evening, the plays being "As Ye Sow" and "Everyday Gold." The attendance was large and the presentations were under the direction of Mrs. Henry Quimby and Miss Edith Stone. Mrs. Leonard Brown was the accompanist and Madeline and Mrs. Gilmore sang several numbers that were very pleasing.

The cast of characters in "As Ye Sow" included: Marjorie, Chapman, Winifred Sankler, Louise Macanley, Evelyn Dillon, Elaine Keller, Harriett Quinn, Evelyn Waterhouse, Doris LaPorte, Alice Lybrand, Madeline Davis, Dorothy Wilson and Barbara Hensel. The cast in "Everyday Gold" consisted of Ruth Quinn, Gladys Wilson, Marion Dillon, Harriett Quinn, Harold Logan, Wilfred Palm, Lester Gibson, Norman Landon and Courtland Burkinshaw.

Home-made candies and Halloween novelties were sold. Those in charge of the candy and decorations were Edna Barr, Maie Skene, Elizabeth Leland, Mary Leland and Grace Skene. Miss Maie Skene impersonated a witch and sold tickets.

USED PANTALOONS FOR TOW LINE

Two ordinary pairs of trousers tied together served admirably as a tow line when a three seven-passenger car was drawn through Lowell streets yesterday afternoon, on its way to a garage. The car doing the pulling was driven by J. W. Fraser, proprietor of a furniture store at the corner of Middlesex and Gorham streets.

Mr. Fraser has been trying to find somebody able to tow his trousers apart, but up to date hasn't succeeded. The cloth tow line proved entirely adequate yesterday, but as a further demonstration he has tied a regular 25-pound key of nails to a pair of these wonders in one of his store windows, where it can now be seen.

MASS MEETING AT AUDITORIUM

The mass meeting for the Greek-speaking residents of this city under the auspices of the Near East relief committee will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Memorial Auditorium and it is expected the audience will be large. The meeting will be held for the purpose of raising funds for the relief of the refugees of Asia Minor. There will be speakers from Boston and this city and the meeting will be presided over by Samuel H. Thompson of this city, a member of the national committee.

TO ENDOW BED FOR SICK NURSES

Success in large measure was attained by the Nurses' Alumnae association of the Lowell general hospital at the bazaar held yesterday afternoon and evening in St. Anne's parish house for the purpose of raising funds to endow a bed for sick nurses. At least $300 will be necessary.

The main hall of the parish house was attractively decorated and on each sales table articles were arranged in suitable display. The various committees were headed by the following chairmen:

Publicity, Miss R. C. Gibson; tea room and ice, Mrs. Ernest Merrill and Mrs. Albert Churchman; cake table, Mrs. Hamblett; fancy table, Miss Ethel Post; dexters; plants and vegetables, Mrs. Herbert Blake; candy, Mrs. Ralph Stewart; grab table, Mrs. Mildred May; domestic table, Mrs. Armand and Mrs. Large.

SITE FOR FIREHOUSE IN OAKLANDS

The Spalding lot in Oakland square, at the junction of Rogers and Palamount streets, meets with the approval of a majority of the members of the public safety committee of the city council as a site for a new firehouse in that district. It can be acquired for approximately $2500. It is believed the committee will file this report as a recommendation at the next regular council meeting.

The committee, with Councilor Fred A. Sadler as chairman, made a tour of the Oakland and Belvidere sections yesterday afternoon and after viewing a number of suggested sites, agreed the one above mentioned has more to recommend it than any other. This is the site suggested by the Oakland Improvement association at the hearing held at city hall last Monday night.

OPENING TUESDAY OF MOLLER'S MODERN FOUR-STORY FURNITURE STORE IN MIDDLE STREET

S. W. PRUSSIAN

Massive Building is Filled With Beautiful House Furnishings and Will Be Open for Inspection and Reception of Guests—Juvenile Department Filled With Children's Furniture a Novel Feature—Concert Musicians Will Give Elaborate Program on Opening Day

Lowell's newest and largest furniture house—Moller's, Inc.—will open its doors to the public inspection and future patronage next Tuesday morning, Oct. 31.

This addition to the city's prosperous mercantile interests is backed by one of the most successful furniture selling corporations in the country with a record of many years of splendid developments. From small quarters to large areas for the showing of all that is new, modern and desirable in the line of complete house furnishings is a record worthy of mention because of the energy displayed by the enterprising executives of the concern who, by the way, have implicit faith in the future business prosperity of Lowell.

The new furniture house that graces Middle Street close to the sweep of busy Central street has wonderfully changed the appearance of that bustling thoroughfare that contains so many important business concerns today. The Moller building, of great beauty and actually imposing as no building in the Central street corner and looks to the spot where the structure has been erected and is now ready for formal opening next Tuesday, occupies the spot where the new Harrison hotel was to have been constructed.

The architectural work in the new building is most impressive. All of the handsome limestone used in the construction plans was imported from Bath, Eng. The new store, four stories in height and of generous width, is one of the very best lighted structures in New England. The daylight is there in full measure, the immense windows giving ample allowance for all the natural light there is. The artificial lighting system is complete, the direct lights being used and the huge globes being of the latest pattern.

Interior Is Very Inviting
The interior of the building is unusually inviting. There is an impression of great cleanliness, with the spotless white varnished paint used lavishly on walls and artistic carpet work in all the novel finishes and arrangements called for by the designers. The massive columns that support the floors are also dressed in clear white. The business office in the rear is finished in light gray.

The variety of new furniture of every description, the display of modern lamps, "grandfather's clocks" of most remarkable size and beauty, the presentations in popular Queen Anne style furniture for home and other places where men and women gather daily for business purposes or recreation, the club furniture and decorations, the notable offerings for pastime balls and other gathering places will entice the eager visitors.

Practically the same decorative scheme is carried out on the upper floors of the building as is found on the first floor. An unusual feature of the Moller, Inc., concern's new place of business, now nearly ready for the opening, are ten enormous display "house rooms" in the front of the building, with show windows from the street. Each room may be enclosed, and furniture displayed as if in a house living room. In addition to the ten novel display rooms, made to order, there is a specially built juvenile room in the rear of the first floor, which has been finished in beautiful colors and designs familiar to children's hearts. This room has special furniture "to fit the children," and there will be showings here from time to time of different things in lines that go to furnish in detail children's nursery and playrooms.

All window displays can be inspected equally as well from the store interior as from the street sidewalks. On the second floor will be displayed living room furniture. On the third will be the chamber and dining room furnishings in great variety, and the top floor will be given over to rugs, chairs, beds and odd pieces. The basement will contain ranges, kitchen cabinets, beds, oil stoves, heaters and miscellaneous household articles of popular usage.

Spiffing Elevator Service

A passenger elevator connects all floors of the building, and there is a freight elevator service, all provided with the latest safety appliances. On the second floor is a ladies rest room, well furnished and providing a cozy place where shoppers may go and rest while on tours of the city. Other arrangements are made for the entertainment of women of the city, as well as the Moller concern desiring to extend every courtesy to all comers, whether they come to purchase supplies or simply to look over the great Moller collection of household goods.

There are two entrances to the great building on Middle Street and one from the rear. There will be free delivery of gold goods to all sections of Lowell and the immediate vicinity. Customers will find stocks of all grades to meet their tastes, and the motto will be: "Cash, if you have it; credit, if you want it." The concern guarantees its prices to be as low, if not lower, than those of any other similar concern in New England.

The Moller store in Cambridge has been well known for years, coming into the possession of this well known concern some eight years ago. S. W. Prussian is president and treasurer of Moller's, Inc. He believes that all success in life is based on the principle of "service." When asked to explain the secret of his success in Cambridge and elsewhere, Mr. Prussian referred the interviewer to his very efficient store department managers, who were glad to explain why the "Moller system" has worked out so well.

The employees credit Mr. Prussian with being both friendly and charitable in his dealings with those who come to his store. He has made a success of his commercial life by keeping in touch with those who fall to rise in life's struggle. Witness his great charitable work in and about Boston, showing the business man, perhaps, at his best, while chronicling his human endeavor. He annually gives free dinners to inmates at the state prison in Charlestown and at the Charles street jail, Boston, and provides frequent entertainments, also.

He has long aided extensive charitable work in Cambridge, where his other store is flourishing and has a host of customers and loyal friends.

Lowell Man Manager

Although Mr. Prussian is the head of the Moller concern, the local management of the Lowell store will be in the hands of George A. King, a popular young business man of Lowell, who began his commercial career with the A. G. Pollard Co. 20 years ago, developing until he was promoted to the position of assistant buyer. He continued in this position until he resigned to begin his commercial career with filling a similar position with that concern until their reorganization last winter. He received an offer from Moller's, Inc., last April and went to Cambridge headquarters. Naturally his Lowell friends are gratified to see Mr. King transferred to this city, his home town.

Other Lowell people will be employed in Moller's when the doors are formally thrown open next Tuesday. There will be Michael E. Goshkin, well known in this city and vicinity; Victor C. Hie, for many years in the phonograph trade, and L. L. Plant, a well known Lowell salesman, who will be in charge of important departments. Lowell men will make up the sales personnel, with French and Greek-speaking salesman to accommodate people who speak those languages. With the office force will be Lowell people solely, Miss Lavole and Miss Wyman, both Lowell girls, being employed there.

An excellent choice in the selection of a general manager and buyer for Moller's, Inc., is Henry L. Mahan, an experienced furniture man, with many years of long experience behind him. The store will open Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock and remain open until 9 o'clock in the evening. Souvenirs will be distributed and will be worth going to obtain. An orchestra will play interesting selections during the day and evening. After the formal opening day, the Moller store will keep the same business hours as other large stores.

The corporation has issued many thousand attractive invitations asking Lowell people to attend the formal opening, but if any failed to secure formal cards, they are invited to come to the store on Middle Street anyhow and inspect the new building and its multitude of wonderful offerings.

OLD SOLDIER IN NEED OF ASSISTANCE

Today the world is and should be interested in the welfare of our World War heroes, but the Lowell Social Service league wonders if one or many are interested in the problem of a totally disabled old soldier. He is a regular army man of the late 60s, has no known relatives, has always been a steady worker until incapacitated through illness. His savings are gone and he is just out of a local hospital. As he is too old to apply for a pension, and not eligible to military or state aid, the league has secured admittance to the Old Soldiers' home at Washington for him. The question of railroad fare is now pressing. Anyone willing to give the smallest donation towards the fare to the Lowell Social Service league, 405-607 Fairburn building.

"The New World Begins"

"millions now living will never die" ---
Judge Rutherford

There is special significance in the troublous days through which the world has passed since 1914. Out of these events will come greater developments, involving all nations and peoples. The Bible accurately foretold present conditions. Its prophecies regarding the future will be fulfilled with equal exactness. The outstanding hope held forth in the Scriptures is the hope of eternal life, and the realization of this hope is now at hand. It will be accompanied by all that the heart has longed for—health, peace and happiness. God's purpose in giving man a revelation of His Plan was that mankind should use it, understand it, and appreciate the principles it sets forth. An understanding of the Bible broadens one's view and inspires cheerfulness and optimism. Prophets of old have described with glowing tongue the glories of the bright day that is now dawning. Hear the subject discussed at length.

HOSPITAL EXPANSION PLANNED AT STATE INFIRMARY IN TEWKSBURY

Governor Cox Visits "Village of Unfortunate" and Makes Personal Inspection of the Premises—He is Now Prepared to Endorse Urgent Demands of the Hospital Executives

Constructive plans for greatly needed hospital extensions, larger quarters for employees and the erection of an industrial building, long contemplated and now fully mapped out after many months of arduous planning and investigation of the immediate needs requiring attention, were outlined today for The Sun by John H. Nichols, superintendent and resident physician of the State Infirmary at Tewksbury.

During his 28 years of continuous supervision of this important department of public welfare, his work actually extends to a full period of 31 years in this field of human endeavor. Supt. Nichols today is still actively occupied with the multiple duties of his exacting position as executive head of a notable institution in the service of mankind, with health vigorous and showing no signs of his long and incessant voyage down the channels of Time.

Remarkably well-equipped as the Tewksbury infirmary is with its great average of buildings, more than 70 in all today, and housing more than 3000 hospital cases and employees in this little "village" on the slopes of the town just beyond Tewksbury Centre, the great public institution created to aid humanity by treatment of various ills and woes that follow the fall of unfortunates to provide for themselves, has been somewhat handicapped of late from continued extension of its highly successful work by the limitations of funds provided by the commonwealth.

Not that Supt. Nichols or his co-workers at Tewksbury have not been generally well supported in their requests for better accommodations and more adequate provisions for carrying on this great hospital work in the past, but during and since the great war, the awards of state funds provided for improvements and increased facilities at the infirmary have not been quite extensive enough to take care of the additional work required.

Supt. Nichols made it very plain today that he has no fault to find—and never had—with the splendid interest and cordial support at all times of the board of trustees and all others interested in keeping up the high standard and recognized at the Tewksbury Infirmary for so many years past. There have been times, nevertheless, when requests have been made for desired funds that were deemed necessary to extend the work of the infirmary when these at the head of the department of public welfare did not see fit to meet the demands.

Both Supt. Nichols and the board of trustees, however, have now been given an opportunity to understand that in the coming year, there will be an increased amount of funds provided by the state to proceed with long-delayed building plans, extending the work of the hospital and giving the patients and attendants more desirable locations and housing provisions that have been needed for several years.

The hospital authorities have already acknowledged their very deep indebtedness to Gov. Cox for his ready support at all times. Only a short time ago, the governor interested himself in the infirmary by personal inspection of the premises and talking with the heads of the institution as well as interviewing attendants. He is now prepared, it is said, to endorse the urgent demands of the hospital executives, who are planning for extensive additions to the area of buildings at the Tewksbury institutional plant in the coming year. Some of the more pressing needs of the hospital were outlined for The Sun by Supt. Nichols today, as follows:

Petitions will be sent to the incoming legislature for funds to carry out plans for—

General hospital extension.

Employees' quarters extension.

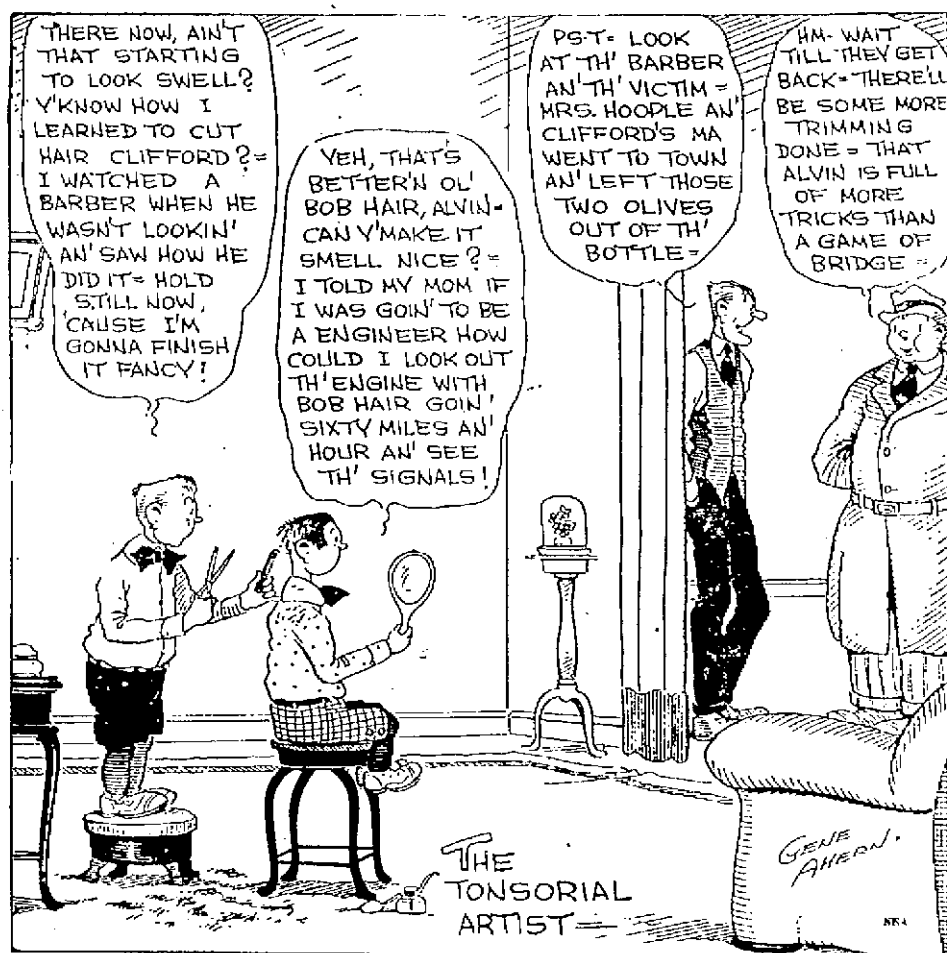

Industrial building.

For the present, these three important recommendations will be the only ones offered to the legislature for consideration at this time. Supt. Nichols stated, however, that other requests to come later—and a program is now being prepared to cover the wants for the next five years it is hoped—will include appropriations of state funds for more quarters in housing sections where present conditions are somewhat cramped.

Number of inmates.

The board of trustees have nothing but praise for the manner in which

Hospital Extension

During the year, eight hospital extensions have been provided for the infirmary chain of buildings, all in regular use, filling long-felt wants, as the saying goes. The sum of $113,000 was estimated for this important provision, the number of hospital cases steadily increasing.

Next in importance on the program of the executives of the hospital is the industrial building recommended. This will undoubtedly be a reality in 1923, for the money is practically assured.

If legislative action does not miscarry and recommendations now strongly endorsed are not ignored, there are at present at Tewksbury no suitable quarters for patients requiring rehabilitation methods or instruction aid of the modern school. Plans are progressing in this connection for branch-houses and similar activities leading to the regeneration of patients, male and female.

Needs multiply, also, for convenient quarters for carpentering and machine work, this branch of industry at the infirmary being really inefficient at the present time to the great regret of the earnest superintendent and his corps of assistants.

At least $72,000 will be asked to construct the industrial building and secure modern equipment. The quarters for the married employees will, it is estimated, call for an appropriation of $71,000.

The new gymnasium now provided gives a splendid assembly room and auditorium large enough for all of the inmates not confined to their beds, for exercise, improvement, entertainment and recreation, and also recreation rooms, a cozy social center and "gym" facilities for the employees of the infirmary. Motion picture shows are held regularly, entertainments of various kinds each week, and there is a "home orchestra" that provides excellent music for occasional dancing and concerts.

The farm buildings have been greatly improved, and the water tower, long desired, finally erected. This is of steel, 70 feet high by 50 feet in diameter.

FROM TOP TO TOE IN MILADY'S MODES

Hat Aims to Please

The sterling virtues of economy, practicality and durability were not emphasized in this hat, or could it be induced to take a decided stand on the large or small issue. It merely aimed to be becoming. Black lace, feathers and black satin, helped it achieve its end.

Practical and Pretty

The cloth coat and the practical suit come in a number of attractive forms this season. They are embellished with fur, the long or short-haired variety being equally good, and frequently embroidery in conventional patterns livens up dark, winter fabrics.

Both Styles Popular

The 1922 model fur coat may be long or short, but it must be smart. Black caracul and kolinsky make the long one and moleskin and fox the short one pictured here. For early winter, the jacket with the hip band is most popular, but the longer model will have its inning later.

Fascinating Negligee

The coat of lace embellished with satin ribbons and rosebuds worn over a slip of pink satin or georgette is probably the most feminine and alluring of all garments. Incidentally, it's the sort of a garment nearly any woman can fashion for herself.

Graceful

Paisley

The most effective negligee is often the simplest, as in the case of this softly draped model of supple blue satin.

Figured silks are very popular now, particularly when they are combined with a plain fabric of harmonizing tone.

New System of Fat Reduction

Here's a new way for all fat people to laugh together at that old bugaboo—obesity. The saying that "there is nothing new under the sun" does not now apply to fat people any more. Here is something new for them—a new sensation, a new pleasure, a new and graceful figure. Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists or sent postpaid by the Marmola company, 4612 Woodward avenue, Detroit, Mich. A case—sufficient to bring results—is but one dollar.—Adv.

Sure Way to Charm

If you want to be picturesque—and what woman doesn't—the quickest way to achieve your purpose is to buy a picture hat of black velvet, hung with Spanish lace that falls below the shoulder line on the left side. You simply can't help being irresistible.

What Paris Sends Us

Unless shorter dresses become the vogue, fancy stockings would seem to be a drag on the market—but they aren't. They are more popular than ever before and are frequently embroidered in gay colors. Fancy slippers, too, of brocade and light suede leather are most stylish.

Lines of Loveliness

Draperies are apt to play an important part in the dinner frock, and street frock as well. As sleeves on fancy gowns become more elaborate and flowing, those on street frocks become longer and plainer. But the waistline cannot be induced to leave the hips for any occasion.

For Evening

Sapphire blue velvet with a lining of silver cloth and elaborate sleeves and a novel collar tell the news of this lovely evening coat.

Distinctive

This frock of crepe would be plain if it were not so distinctively draped. As it is, it is one of the season's smartest models.

CHANGE OF LIFE WOMAN'S TRIAL

Proof That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is of Great Help at This Period

Metropolis, Illinois.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it is all it claims to be and has benefited me wonderfully. I had been sick for eight months with a trouble which confined me to my bed and was only able to be up part of the time when I was advised by a friend, Mrs. Smith, to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. I was so much benefited by the use of these medicines that I was able to be up and about in two weeks. I was at the Change of Life when I began taking the medicines and I passed over that time without any trouble. Now I am hale and hearty, do all my housework, washing, ironing, scrubbing, and cooking, all there is to do about a house, and can walk two or three miles without getting too tired. I know of several of my neighbors who have been helped by your medicines." Mrs. EMMA CULVER, 705 E. 9th St., Metropolis, Illinois.

Depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Nervousness, irritability, heat flashes, headache and dizziness, are relieved by this splendid medicine.

BAZAAR WILL FEATURE "ROTARY CLUB BALL"

One of the interesting features of the coming bazaar ball which is to be held by the Rotary club in Memorial Auditorium on Nov. 17 will be the bazaar. This is in charge of a committee headed by Alvin Weaver and his assistants are Clarence Wedg, Marcus J. Cole, Fred Jones, "Newt" Goodell, "Uncle" Dudley, Page and Royal P. White. This committee is busy at work arranging for the sale of candy, flowers and glazer, etc. Moxie and lemonade. The candy will be put up in special souvenir boxes and will be sold at several booths as well as by a corps of young ladies who have volunteered for this service. It will be arranged so that you can have your order at the booth during the bazaar ball and have flowers sent to anyone, anywhere, on the following day. Flowers for wear during the party will, of course, be ready on the spot.

CARGO OF 1200 CASES OF WHISKEY SEIZED

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The Dodge, a 50-foot motor launch, whose skipper declared she was not a rum-runner, but just a "good Samaritan" of the seas, was towed into port this morning by the rum chaser Hansen and her cargo of 1200 cases of whiskey confiscated.

TRILLIONS OF RUBLES IN CIRCULATION

MOSCOW, Oct. 28.—Millions and billions mean little nowadays in reckoning the affairs of the Russian government, according to Finance Commissioner Skolnikoff. In a report to the workmen's and peasants' parliament, he estimated that the Soviet rubles now in circulation total 1,182,000,000,000,000.

FOUND DYING IN STREET
BOSTON, Oct. 28.—A body believed to be that of George Harvey of Toronto, who served with the first Canadian division, was found today for positive identification. In a weakened condition the man was picked up in the streets a few days ago and died in a hospital.

HAGEN AND KIRKWOOD GO WEST
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Walter Hagen, American holder of the British open golf title, and Joe Kirkwood, his Australian partner, are on their way west today to inaugurate a winter exhibition that will carry them to the Pacific coast and later to the south. Their last scheduled stop is Kansas City, Mo.

Marty Dupree in French Follies

MARTY DUPREE

"The French Follies of 1922" with Marty Dupree and a host of beautiful girls as the principal entertainers, is the attraction for the Opera House beginning next Monday afternoon and continuing for the entire week. Manager William Schenke has made arrangements to handle a record crowd, for the present indications predict that the show will be even more successful than those of "Oh-T-Baby" and "On the Beach" companies, which drew such huge crowds in the recent engagements.

Marty Dupree's entertainers will have more than the usual interest for

Lowell people because of the fact that one of their leaders in songs and dances is Miss Alice Bagley, one of Lowell's favorite songsters. Miss Bagley has not been heard here for years and her appearance will again be a treat for those who are acquainted with her. Others in the line of entertainment which will be highly pleasing.

In addition to the entertainers just mentioned, there will be a large company of beautifully costumed girls who will go through a lengthy varied program full of pep and fun. It is regarded as a clean, wholesome show and one that will leave many pleasant memories. For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the company of people will have a concert show and for Thursday, Friday and Saturday there will be another change of program.

In addition to Marty Dupree's entertainers for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Manager Schenke has booked Thelma, a mental telepathist, who is widely known for her extraordinary powers and mind games. This girl is able to answer all the questions you ask her and has solved many problems for those in trouble.

Tickets are on sale for the week's performance and may be procured by calling phone 261.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

"The Prisoner of Zenda," Noted Classic, to Open Big Engagement Tomorrow

For the final week before it closes for an indefinite period during its engagement and roundelling, the Merrimack Square theatre has arranged another big series of super-attractions that one would have to travel far and wide to see elsewhere.

For the first four days of the week beginning Sunday, the big attraction will be "The Prisoner of Zenda." Anthony Hope's great story which for years was played with success on the legitimate stage by James K. Hackett. In the screen production the leading roles are taken by Lewis Stone and Allen Terry, known to every motion picture fan.

No one who has thrilled to the call of romance should fail to see this extraordinary picture which is packed full of action, intrigue and devilish plotting. It is watched against herculean effort and ultimate victory for the loyal adherents of the ruler of the Kingdom of Ruritania. The settings are magnificent, the costumes are processional, the royal ball are impressive, beautiful and impressive. Here beauty, play, intrigue, danger, plots, beauty, action and charm.

Lewis Stone as the Englishman, who by the vagaries of fate was called upon for a time to impersonate the king, gives a flawless performance in the dual role. Allen Terry, beautiful as a fly, legal in appearance and action, moves charmingly through the love interest of the picture to the ultimate repudiation of her heart's desire. Robert Edeson as the faithful Colonel Sand gives a splendid performance of a character which has infinite appeal. Others who make these well known characters come to life with faithful reality are Stuart Holmes as Duke Michael, Ramon Navarro as Rupert of Hentzau, Barbara La Marr as Antoinette de Mauban, Malcolm McGregor as Count Von Hartenbach, Edward Connelley as Marshal Von Strakenz.

The photography, which is of unusual excellence, is by John P. Selz. Edward Ross dramatized the story. The usual excellent surrounding program will be presented with "The Prisoner of Zenda," with the International News comedy and the latest variety digest among the attractions. There will be no increase in admission prices for this big program.

For Thursday, Friday and Saturday the feature will be "To Have and to Hold," a screen adaptation of the famous novel of the same name.

The Merrimack Square theatre will be closed after the evening performance of Sunday, Nov. 6, for a brief period for alterations. During this time it will be one of the finest and one of the most beautiful theatres in New England. And what is more—the same high quality of photography has made it what it is today will continue to be shown.

THE STRAND
"My Friend the Devil" and "The Girl Who Ran Wild" Early Week Attractions at the Strand

A combination of special features that contribute to a properly varied photoplay offering is what Manager Torgan has to present at the Strand for the coming week. For the first three days, starting on Monday, the other big Fox special, "My Friend the Devil" will lead, and the other contribution will be Gladys Walton in "The Girl Who Ran Wild." Both are the kind of picture stories that reach as well as amuse and entertain. The usual comedy and variety features will also be shown, while the musical numbers will add to a program of 2 1/2 hours of solid enjoyment. For the last three days of the week, visitors to the Strand will be treated to a feature called "The Girl Who Ran Wild," with such favorites as Alice Lake, Rosemary Theby and others are seen. Foot Gibson in "The Gallant Sir" will be the runner-up. You sure can't beat these programs.

A word about the Sunday programs. Manager Torgan has made every endeavor to raise the standard of his Sunday offerings to a point that will satisfy the most exacting and up to date he has seen. Most successful. What he has to offer for the coming Sunday should please more than ever. An entire change of pictures is one of the Strand's features.

William Fox has already given a host of his super-pictures to the great motion picture public and his special for this week are undoubtedly the best in their special line. His "Monte Cristo" and "Silver Wings" reflect the standard of entertainment that his special produce. Now comes "My Friend the Devil," a strong, vital, dramatic story, a story that digs deep into the heart of humanity and helps to lead us on, through its excitement, to the road to happiness. It is the story of a great scientist, who is a non-believer in man who thinks that science is greater than God; the story of an unfaithful wife; with a great climax in the discovery of the unfaithfulness of his wife. The story is to be married. Here we find the house

Lovers of Celtic music and Irish dancing will be charmed on next Monday afternoon and evening, when the Irish regiment band makes its appearance here at the Memorial Auditorium. The program includes the lively lilting tunes of the happier mood, as well as the plaintive, sympathetic melody for which the Irish strain is famous, and all will be produced to the best effect by the full band of trained musicians. In addition to the musical program there will be stunts and big dancing by champion dancers who will be accompanied by the band. This entire program is heralded as one of the best Irish concerts ever given by a band. Tickets are on sale at Steinert's.

LOWELL TEXTILE COUNCIL
Routine business was transacted at last evening's meeting of the Lowell Textile Council. President John H. Hays presided and the attendance was large. Reports were received concerning the unemployed textile operatives and it was announced that on Wednesday evening, Nov. 8, a dance will be conducted in Grafton and Merrimack halls for the benefit of those who are out of work. The affair will be conducted under the auspices of the Trades & Labor council and the Lowell Textile Council.

P. J. GRALTON
Now is the time to buy a home, and P. J. Gralton is the man who will sell you just what you want. Mr. Gralton is one of the finest real estate men in this city because he has a fine list of property of all descriptions. He is honest in his dealings and his motto is to satisfy both parties concerned in the transaction. His offices are 417 Fairburn building.

A. BLANCHETTE & CO.
Newly-weds are respectfully invited to look over the fine and varied stock of furniture on exhibition at the store of A. Blanchette & Co. at 462 Merrimack street. The best available in the line of furniture is now at the store at prices that are really surprising. Whether you have the cash or not is of little importance, for this company sells on the installment plan.

BACHELDER
It is said that this season is the best in the year for motorcycle riding. It is true that the air is a little cool, but you will not mind such a little thing if you are riding a good, comfortable machine. Bachelder, agent for the Indian motorcycle, says if you try a ride on one of his machines you will be more than pleased. Inspect the Indian and buy one now. It is classed among the best motorcycles on the market.

WESLEY D. PIERCE
There is a scarcity of building craftsmen in the city, but Wesley D. Pierce, the plumbing and heating contractor at 425 Bridge street, says he has men to handle all the work that comes his way. So that if there is anything wrong with the boiler or heater at your home, get in touch right away with Mr. Pierce and he will have the troubles remedied at once.

THE PHYSIOTHERAPY CLINIC
If you are suffering from rheumatism, gout, sciatica or in fact from any ailment caused by intestinal and nervous disorders, you should make application at once for a treatment at the Physiotherapy clinic in rooms 5, 6, 7, 8 and 10 Keith's building, Bridge street. The female department of this clinic is in charge of Kathleen E. Hurley, P.T., while the male department is under the supervision of William J. Hunt, P.T. Make your appointment before you go.

National Committees of Both Parties Busy

a strenuous even though short, winter season. The race, which is the symbol of authority of the sergeant-at-arms, has gone through a thorough course of repairs. The sergeant-at-arms of the mace has never been questioned or underestimated, when the house grows turbulent, as is often the case.

When the speaker cannot quell a disturbance, by loud demands for order and the sharp raps of the gavel, he calls on the sergeant-at-arms to "enforce the rules of the house." Then that official seizes the mace from the speaker's desk, rushes down the aisle and commands combatants to come to order in the name of the congress of the United States. And never yet in the history of the congress have members failed to respond, no matter in what state of high excitement or beligerency they might be. The mace is a thick ebony rod surmounted by a silver globe representing the earth, on top of which is a silver eagle. The mace is held of such value as the symbol of congressional authority, that whenever repairs are required, they are done by experts in the presence of an official guard. In that way it is protected from the chances taken by relic hunters. I remember on one occasion, the hot-headed Tom Heflin, of Alabama, now senator, but at that time member of the house, got into a controversy with a republican colleague, and jumping over the desk that intervened, rushed at his opponent with intent to "lay him out" then and there. But Tom stumbled and fell flat in the aisle, rolling over and over down the gentle incline, and before he could regain his feet, the sergeant-at-arms stood over him, holding the mace and demanding in loud terms and with such formality of utterance that the prostrate southerner "rised and kept order," which Mr. Heflin reluctantly did, and peace was quickly restored, though excitement ran high on floor and gallery.
